The respect, affection and care existing between the players and the coaching staff will create the chemistry that will mold our football team into a family. # This is Maryland

There is no better place to be than the University of Maryland, College Park. As Washingtonian magazine noted in its December, 1997 issue, "...kids are turning down schools like Princeton and Virginia to go to College Park." With its top-ranked academic programs, nationally recognized faculty, diverse population, and lush 1,580-acre campus located between Washington, D.C. and Baltimore, Md., it's no wonder the University of Maryland is a sought-after destination for some of the state's — and the country's — best and brightest students.

Attracting them are more than 100 majors and some of the highest-ranked programs in the country. For instance, in the 1998 U.S. News & World Report rankings of graduate schools, the Clark School of Engineering was ranked 13th in the nation, the School of Public Affairs was ranked 20th, and the College of Education placed 23rd. The Maryland School of Business was ranked 27th, and also was named one of the country's 25 best business schools for entrepreneurs by Success magazine.

This is Maryland

High tech, engineering and service industries thrive in proximity to the campus, offering a wide spectrum of internships, work-study opportunities and career choices for students. And, the campus is surrounded by the dynamic cultural opportunities that only a major metropolitan area can provide.

Whether your focus is the sciences or the humanities, a small town atmosphere or a metropolitan feel, the University of Maryland offers a wide range of educational and cultural opportunities. There is no better place to be than the University of Maryland, College Park.

Terrapin Game Day

The game day experience at Byrd Stadium has a uniqueness all its own which can only be realized by becoming part of the event. The pageantry which encompasses a Saturday in the Park and a Terrapin football game are unmatched in the Atlantic Coast Conference. Events on game day are fully interactive and enjoyed before, during and after every contest at Byrd.

"I chose Maryland because I love the atmosphere here. Basically, I just love the state of Maryland and the school itself. When you see a big home crowd, it gives you nothing but pride to know you're playing for the state of Maryland and those fans. It's an honor."

Eric Barton

"We're making big strides in where we want to go and how we want to get there. Once we get it going, things will really snowball."

Ken Mastrole

Terrapin Game Day

"I really believe in Coach Vandy. Everywhere he's been, he's won. He may have started out at the bottom, but he got to the top each time. Fans just need to believe and be ready to hear about Maryland football. We all need to be one heartbeat, one team."

LaMont Jordan

Maryland fans arrive early to generate the Terrapin spirit which has become a longstanding tradition throughout the campus on a beautiful autumn day. The backdrop of the campus only enhances the spirit surrounding a football game at Byrd Stadium. The revelry on campus and around the stadium has become legendary.

"I came to Maryland to be part of a new era. We're making progress and have a lot to look forward to. My message to fans is, 'Keep an eye out for us. We're up and coming. We've got something to prove.'"

Tony Jackson

"We have great fans and they have a huge impact on our team. When you feel you have their support, you don't want to let them down."

John Feugill

Some Place Special

City lights, history, sparkling waterfronts, monumental landscapes. Jazz, film festivals, marches and demonstrations. Shopping, professional sports, regattas on the Chesapeake Bay. Not just one city, but three. Not just any city, but the nation's capital, a major port city, and the state capital of Maryland. It's all here beyond the campus.

The nation's capital and its major attractions are within 10 miles of Byrd Stadium. And the highly efficient Metro rail system, with a new station at the campus doorstep, makes navigating the greater Washington, D.C., area easy. Campus shuttles serve the College Park Metro station, allowing easy access to one of the country's model transportation systems.

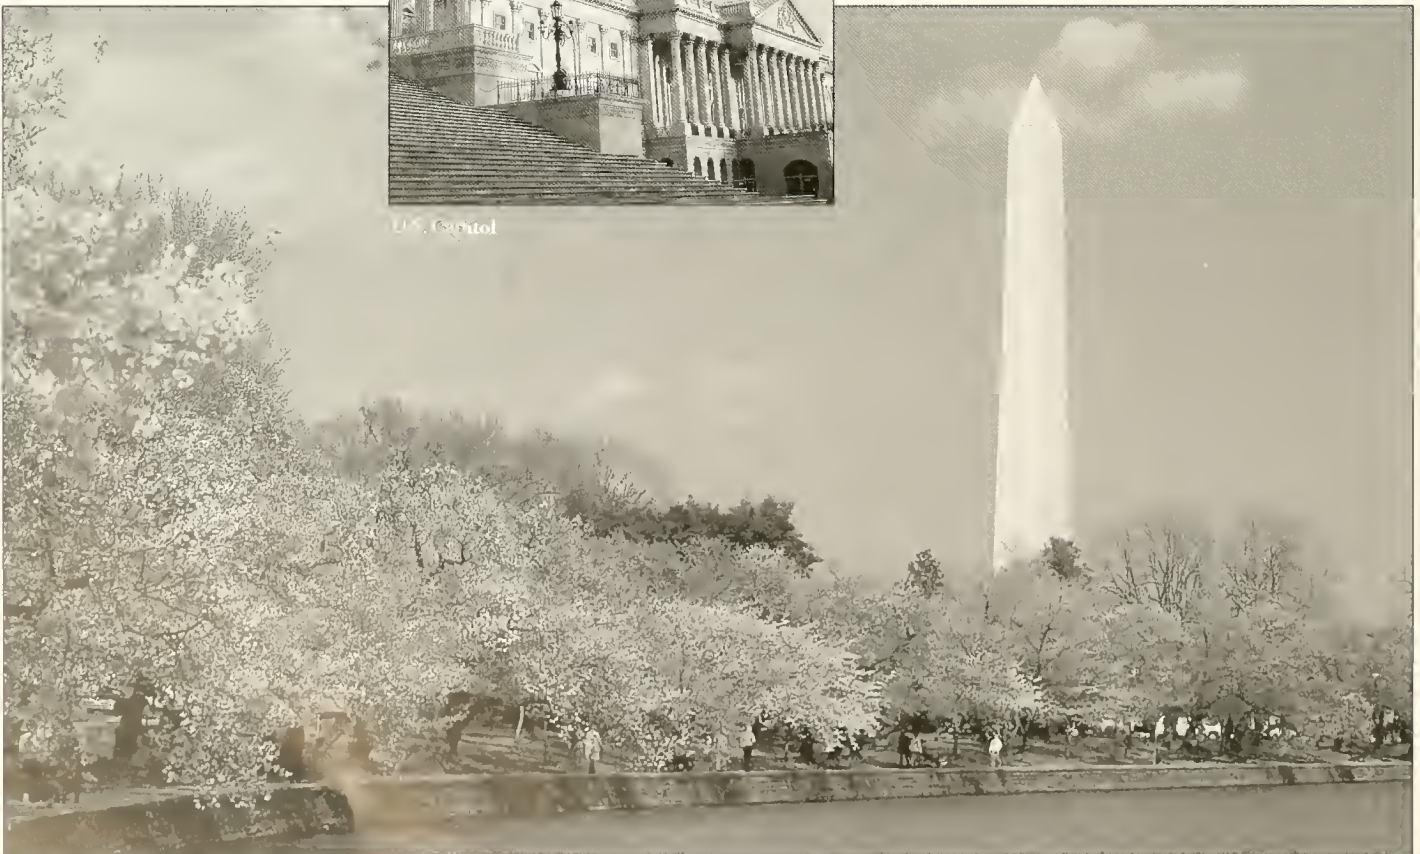

Baltimore is just 35 miles north of the University of Maryland. Its rejuvenation as an urban center is unprecedented. The Inner Harbor, its national aquarium and tall ships, and the nearby Oriole Park at Camden Yards create an exciting, vibrant, holiday atmosphere in a city that boasts one of the world's great sea ports. The heart of Maryland, the Chesapeake Bay, is 20 miles from campus, and the state capital, Annapolis, is 30 miles away.

Campus neighbors include such important national resources as the Library of Congress, the Smithsonian Institutions, the National Institute of Health, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, and the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Center.

Washington and Baltimore can be reached easily from anywhere in the world. USAir, which is headquartered in the metropolitan area, uses Baltimore/Washington International Airport as its hub. Dulles International Airport is a hub for United Airlines, and the area is serviced by Reagan National Airport. College Park is 10 minutes from the Amtrak Northeast Corridor Line and frequent train service along the East Coast.

Ron Vanderlinden

Head Coach

A coach intimately familiar with turning around college football programs enters his second season at the University of Maryland intent on doing just that in College Park.

Ron Vanderlinden, 42, took over as the Terps' head coach in December 1996 following five seasons as the top assistant for the Northwestern Wildcats, whose meteoric rise to national prominence included the school's first Rose Bowl appearance since 1949 and first conference championship since '36. Previously, Vanderlinden spent nine seasons as an assistant at Colorado, where he was part of a program that made six bowl appearances in a seven-year stretch, including a victory in the Orange Bowl to win the 1990 national title.

"I absolutely think Maryland should be one of the premier programs in the country," said Vanderlinden on the day he was introduced as the Terps' head coach. "We have a beautiful campus in a great location, first-class facilities and an impressive stadium, a supportive administration committed to winning, and a large fan base with enthusiastic boosters. These are the essential ingredients necessary for success."

Since arriving in College Park in the winter of '96, Vanderlinden has been tireless in his efforts to awaken the Terrapins' grid fortunes, focusing on his twin goals of "graduating all of our players and winning the [conference] championship."

Those were similar goals during his days at Northwestern, where he served as Gary Barnett's assistant head coach and defensive coordinator from 1992-96. In that span, a moribund Northwestern program — one that hadn't had a winning season in more than 20 years — was transformed into a two-time Big Ten Conference champion and Rose Bowl participant. The Wildcats won five league games in the first three seasons, but then went 15-1 in conference play on way to capturing consecutive Big Ten titles in 1995 and '96. Northwestern played USC in the 1996 Rose Bowl and Tennessee in the 1997 Citrus Bowl.

At Northwestern, Vanderlinden was the chief architect of a defensive unit that in 1995 finished first nationally in scoring defense (12.7 ppg) and third nationally in turnover margin (+1.82 pg). In '96, the Wildcats finished 19th nationally in turnover margin. In addition to heading up Northwestern's defensive efforts, Vanderlinden oversaw the inside linebackers and punt return unit. The Wildcats were among the nation's top 10 punt return teams three times, finishing first in '92, fourth in '93 and ninth in '95.

During his tenure at Northwestern, Vanderlinden recruited and coached several of the most outstanding players in school history. Under his guidance, Northwestern's Pat Fitzgerald was the 1995 and '96 Big Ten Defensive Player of the Year and a two-time All-American. Fitzgerald also was named the Chuck Bednarik and Bronko Nagurski national defensive player of the year in '95, as well as the national defensive player of the year by Chevrolet and Sports Illustrated.

The success enjoyed on the field by the Wildcats was congruent with Vanderlinden's philosophy of high academic achievement. Northwestern earned recognition by the College Football Association as one of the exemplary academic programs in the nation.

Vanderlinden came to Northwestern after coaching Colorado's defensive line for nine years (1983-91). He also served as the Buffaloes' recruiting coordinator for two years (1985-86). While at CU, he coached three All-Americans and five first team All-Big Eight selections. In addition to winning the 1990 national championship, Colorado captured three Big Eight titles (1989, 1990, 1991) and played in six bowl games. From 1985-91, Colorado's defensive unit was considered among the best in the country, ranking No. 10 for fewest touchdowns allowed, 11th in fewest points allowed and 18th in total defense.

Only three years after his arrival in Boulder, the Buffaloes advanced to their first bowl game in nine seasons. All told, CU would make six bowl appearances during Vanderlinden's final seven seasons on the staff, including the 1990 campaign, when the Buffs won the national championship.

It was Vanderlinden's hands-on experience in two successful and stunning rebuilding efforts which attracted him to Maryland athletic director Deborah A. Yow.

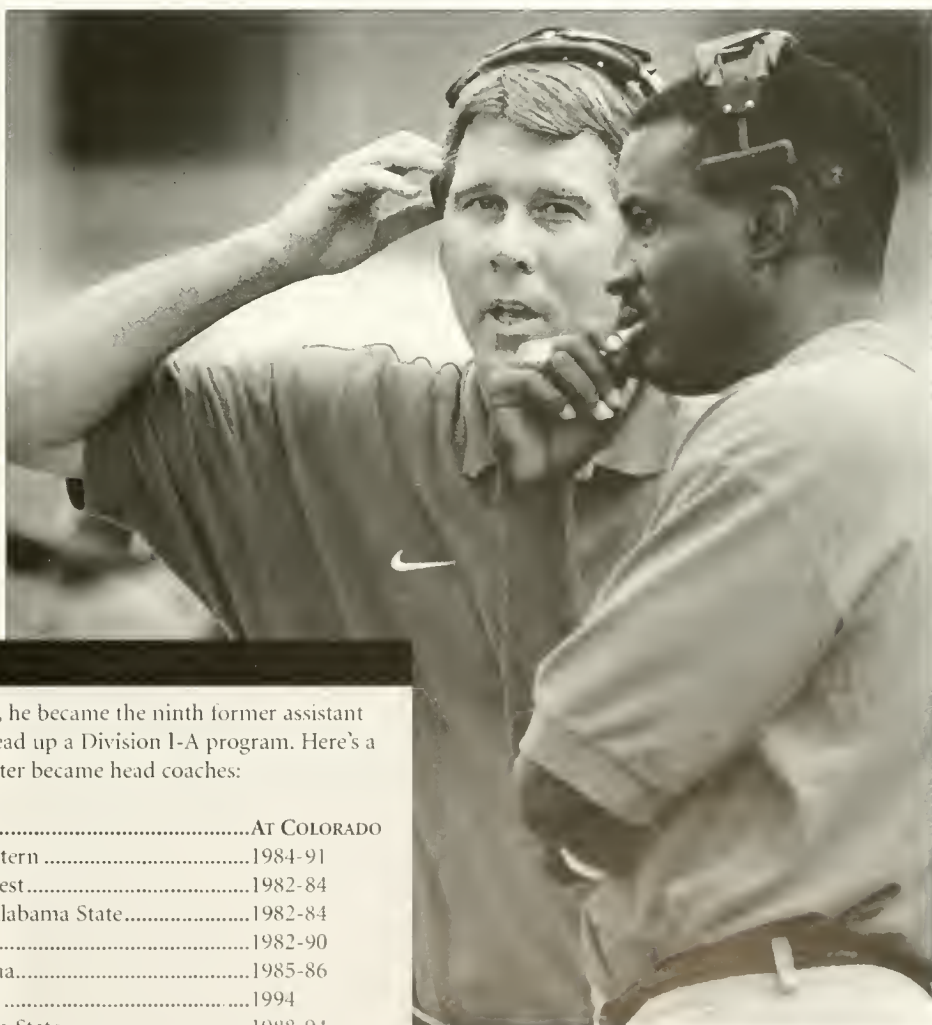

"Ron won unanimous support of our selection committee, and that was great because he was always my top choice," said Yow. "Everyone has said that he is a dynamic coach, that he is knowledgeable, a relentless recruiter and a tireless worker. He's done twice what we want a coach to do: build up a program. And the rebuilding jobs were at good academic schools in Colorado and Northwestern. Based on those credentials, he was an early front runner.”

Vanderlinden began his full-time coaching career at Ball State University in 1982, where he worked with the offensive line for two years. From Ball State he moved to Colorado, then to Northwestern.

As a graduate assistant coach, he began his coaching career at Bowling Green State University under Denny Stolz in 1978. He then moved on to the University of Michigan, where he was a graduate assistant in 1979 and '80 on Bo Schembechler's staff. During his time in Ann Arbor, Michigan participated in both the Gator and Rose bowls.

Said Bill McCartney, former head coach at Colorado: "Ron is a student of the game. He brings energy and fire to the game. I expect Maryland to be a physical and very versatile football team. I expect them to run with authority and pass with continuity. On defense, I expect they will play with an aggressive, challenging style."

Vanderlinden earned his bachelor's degree from Albion (Mich.) College in 1978. A four-year starter at center, he was a two-time first team all-conference selection, earning the honor as a junior and senior, when Albion posted undefeated seasons. Albion also participated in the first Division III playoff game in school history. He also earned three varsity letters in baseball.

A native of Livonia, Mich., Vanderlinden and his wife, Lisa, have a daughter, Chelsea, and a son, Reid. Vanderlinden is one of seven children born to Pete and the late Mary Vanderlinden. Pete was one of 14 children born to Belgian immigrants of Dutch descent.

Wally Ake

Defensive Coordinator Inside Linebackers

Wally Ake, who has been a part of 12 bowl teams during an 18-year major college coaching career, is in his second season as the Terps' defensive coordinator. Ake, who handled defensive ends last season, is overseeing the inside linebackers in 1998.

Ake joined Ron Vanderlinden's staff in 1997 after a three-year stint as defensive coordinator at Rice University, where he helped lead the Owls to a 7-4 record and a second-place Western Athletic Conference Mountain Division finish in 1996. In 1994, Rice's defensive unit finished among the nation's top 25 in four categories as the Owls captured a share of the Southwest Conference title. In addition to coordinating Rice's defense from 1994-96, he coached the Owls' defensive line (1996) and the inside linebackers (1994-95).

Ake previously worked in the Atlantic Coast Conference when he served as Clemson's inside linebackers coach from 1990-93. Under Ake's defensive leadership, the Tigers participated in the 1993 Peach Bowl, the 1991 Citrus Bowl and the 1990 Hall of Fame Bowl. Clemson's 1990 squad ranked first in the nation in total defense, while the 1991 team was ranked No. 1 against the rush.

Prior to his stint at Clemson, Ake spent six years on the coaching staff at University of Arkansas, where he coached the defensive line from 1984-88 and the linebackers in 1989. During his time in Fayetteville, the Razorbacks captured two consecutive Southwest Conference titles (1988-89) and played in bowl games all six seasons, including the Orange Bowl (1986) and the Cotton Bowl (1988-89).

Ake, 48, is a 1972 graduate of the College of William & Mary, the same school at which he launched his college coaching career in 1979. He graduated from Falls Church (Va.) High School in 1968. He later spent five seasons on the coaching staff at Falls Church, serving as defensive coordinator and linebackers coach from 1974-77 and as head coach in '78. After starting his college coaching career at College of William & Mary in '79, he moved on to Arkansas as a graduate assistant in 1980 before serving a three-year stint (1981-83) as defensive line coach at the U.S. Air Force Academy.

He and his wife, Chris, have one son, Aaron.

RON VANDERLINDEN ON WALLY AKE:

"Wally and I have been close friends in football for the past 15 years. His knowledge of the game has always impressed me. There is not a defensive coordinator in college football with more big-game experience or bowl game participation than Wally Ake. The most impressive quality about Wally is the type of person he is. He is a great leader and role model to our players, as well as an outstanding family man."

Craig Johnson

Offensive Coordinator Quarterbacks

Craig Johnson, who coached alongside Ron Vanderlinden during the resurgence of Northwestern's football program, is in his second season as the Terps' offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach.

A former starting quarterback at the University of Wyoming, Johnson last year tutored Brian Cummings, whose completion percentage (60.4%) was the seventh-best in University of Maryland history. At Northwestern, he oversaw the Wildcat quarterbacks for five seasons, including quarterback Steve Schnur, who was the Big Ten's pass efficiency champion in 1996, and Len Williams, who finished his career as the fifth-leading passer in conference history. All told, he coached three Wildcat quarterbacks to All-Big Ten honors in five seasons.

Johnson has coached on four teams that advanced to bowl games, including Northwestern squads that played in the 1996 Rose and 1997 Citrus bowls. He also coached in the 1985 Peach Bowl while at Army and the 1984 Liberty Bowl while at Arkansas.

Prior to his stint at Northwestern, Johnson served as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach for three seasons (1989-91) at Virginia Military Institute. During that time, the VMI offense ranked fifth nationally in total

RON VANDERLINDEN ON CRAIG JOHNSON:

*"As I received head coaching inquiries, the first person I contacted was Craig Johnson, whom I had worked with five previous years at Northwestern University. During our five years together it was easy to see that Craig was one of the bright young offensive minds in football. Craig's coaching and development of the Northwestern quarterbacks played a large role in the two Big Ten championships we won together at Northwestern. ## Rubin Carter

Defensive Line

Former NFL lineman Rubin Carter, who played for the Denver Broncos from 1975-86, is in his second season as Maryland's defensive line coach. Carter joined the Terrapins' staff in 1997 after spending the previous two seasons in a similar capacity at San Jose State under John Ralston.

A prototype nose tackle during a long and successful career in the National Football League, Carter was a durable pro who appeared in 166 games over the course of his 12-year NFL career. At the time of his retirement, he played in more games (152) at nose tackle than any other NFL player in history, and his 166 games played tied for the fifth most in team history. He totaled 1,036 tackles, including 33 sacks, during his professional career. Carter, who was featured on the cover of Sports Illustrated in 1977, missed just two games from 1975-85, a remarkable achievement for a nose tackle. Highly regarded as a strong emotional leader during his Broncos' career, he was Denver's nominee in 1986 for the Ed Block Memorial Award of Courage.

After retiring from pro football in 1986, Carter remained in the Broncos' organization as a defensive line coach from 1987-89, where he tutored four All-Pro defensive linemen: Simon Fletcher, Rulon Jones, Karl Mecklenburg and Greg Kragen. He was a part of three Super Bowl teams while with Denver — as a coach in Super Bowl XXIV and as a player in Super Bowls XXI and XII.

A 1975 graduate of the University of Miami, Carter was the Hurricanes' most valuable player in 1973 and a Kodak, UPI and Associated Press All-American in 1974. He was named MVP of the 1975 Hula Bowl. He was a

Mike Gundy

Wide Receivers

Mike Gundy, a four-year starting quarterback at Oklahoma State who still figures prominently in the Cowboys' record book, joined Maryland's staff in 1997 as wide receivers coach.

Prior to his arrival in College Park, Gundy spent one season as an assistant coach at Baylor (1996) and six seasons as an assistant coach at Oklahoma State (1990-95). At Baylor, Gundy was the Bears' passing game coordinator and quarterbacks coach; at Oklahoma State, he started out as wide receivers coach, took over as quarterbacks coach in 1992, and was elevated to offensive coordinator in 1994.

During his four seasons as a starting QB at Oklahoma State (1986-89), Gundy established most major school passing records and finished his career as the Big Eight's all-time leader in total offense. A three-year team captain, Gundy led the Cowboys to a cumulative record of 29-14 as a starter. Major school records set by Gundy included passing yards in a game (429) and season (2,203); career (58.3 percent) and season (64.8 percent) completion percentage; and completions in a game (27) and season (170).

Gundy, who shared the same backfield with two of football's greatest tailbacks (Barry Sanders and Thurman Thomas), helped lead the Cowboys to back-to-back 10-2 seasons in 1987 and '88. Oklahoma State defeated West Virginia in the '87 Sun Bowl and Wyoming in the '88 Holiday Bowl. His 2,163 passing yards in '87 ranked him second in the NCAA. That same year, Oklahoma State led the nation in touchdowns (70) and points scored (522). Gundy was selected to play in the 1990 Japan Bowl following his senior season.

The 30-year-old Gundy and his wife, Kristen, have one son, Gavin. Gundy's brother, Cale, was a four-year starting quarterback at Oklahoma.

RON VANDERLINDEN ON MIKE GUNDY:

"I first became acquainted with Mike Gundy during his years as a quarterback at Oklahoma State. He was an outstanding college quarterback, leading the Oklahoma State Cowboys to two straight 10-2 seasons. I knew Mike to be a great competitor and player who found a way to get the job done. He enjoyed the same reputation as a coach, having served as an offensive coordinator in two different Division I programs prior to his 30th birthday. Mike is truly one of the great passing innovators in college football."

Heffner began his collegiate coaching career with Illinois State as the interior defensive line coach in 1981 before taking over as offensive line coach during a seven-year stay with the Redbirds. Under his guidance, Illinois State had two offensive linemen earn All-American recognition and eight claim first team all-conference honors. In addition, three backs posted 1,000-yard rushing seasons.

A 1979 graduate of Temple, Heffner earned three letters as an offensive guard and played on Owl teams that made Mirage Bowl appearances in '77 and '78. He began his college coaching career at his alma mater in '79, helping the Owls to a Garden State Bowl victory over California that same year.

Elliot Uzelac

Offensive Centers/Guards

Elliot Uzelac, a former major college head coach who is considered one of the top offensive line technicians in the country, joined Ron Vanderlinden's staff in February 1998 to oversee offensive centers and guards.

The 57-year-old Uzelac brought 31 years of coaching experience with him to College Park — 30 at the collegiate level and one in the NFL. He most recently served as offensive coordinator/offensive line coach at the University of Minnesota in 1997.

Prior to Minnesota, he worked the 1995 and '96 seasons as associate head coach and offensive coordinator at the University of Kentucky, where he oversaw a Wildcats' unit that committed just 16 turnovers in '95, fewest in school history. In addition, the Wildcats' 30 touchdowns in 1995 were the most since 1984 and the 24 rushing TD's were the most since 1974. The Wildcats' 1995 roster included tailback Moe Williams, who rushed for 1,600 yards, established three SEC records and set 15 school marks that season.

From 1993-94, he served as offensive coordinator at Colorado, directing a CU unit that led the Big Eight in total offense both seasons and set or tied 55 school records. Colorado's 1994 offense was led by Heisman Trophy winner Rashaan Salaam and Kordell Stewart.

A 1964 graduate of Western Michigan, Uzelac also has coached for the Cleveland Browns (1992), Ohio State (1991), Indiana (1990), Navy (head coach 1987-89, assistant coach 1971-72), Michigan (1982-86, 1973-74), Western Michigan (head coach 1975-81), and Bowling Green (1968-70, 1965). Among the coaches he has served under include Bo Schembechler, Bill McCartney, Don Nehlen and Bill Mallory.

During his seven seasons as head coach at Western Michigan, he guided his alma mater to more Mid-American Conference victories than any coach in school history to that point. He was named MAC Coach of the Year in 1976. Uzelac later served a three-year stint as head coach at the U.S. Naval Academy.

Uzelac earned a master's degree in physical education from Bowling Green in 1966. He and his wife, Wendy, have two children, Lisa and Nick, and one granddaughter, Jordan.

Youth was served a year ago when the University of Maryland opened up the Ron Vanderlinden era, and it's certain to be on the Terrapins' plate again in '98.

Maryland lists 24 freshmen or sophomores on its preseason two-deep, 10 of whom will enter fall camp No. 1 at their respective positions. A year ago, in Vanderlinden's inaugural season as head coach, 13 freshmen — true and redshirt — saw significant playing time, including nine who started at least one game.

This season, as Vanderlinden and Co. continue their efforts to rebuild the Maryland program, the second-year coach says a shortage of depth at a number of positions will mean early playing time for several underclassmen.

"We've had a productive off-season and spring practice," says Vanderlinden, who knows all about rebuilding Division I-A football programs, having been intimately involved in successful turn-arounds at both Colorado and Northwestern. "Particular improvement has been made physically at most positions. But a lack of depth will require several of our underclassmen — including freshmen — to vie for significant playing time, including starting positions."

Offensively, the major task facing the Terps will be replacing quarterback Brian Cummings, who was at the controls for most of the past three seasons and figures prominently on major Maryland passing lists. Sophomore running back LaMont Jordan is a prominent returnee who will be joined by three starters on the offensive line and most of the wide receiver corps.

Defensively, Maryland will feature one of the nation's top linebacker duos — Kendall Ogle and Eric Barton, who finished 2-3 in the ACC in tackles a year ago — but must revamp both the front four and secondary units.

A difficult schedule awaits the Terps, who faced the nation's 22nd-most demanding slate (according to the Sagarin Ratings) last season. All told, Maryland is scheduled to face five teams coming off bowl appearances, and seven which posted winning records in '97. The opposition's cumulative .562 winning percentage in '97 is the second-highest among ACC schools.

A breakdown of the Terps by position:

Quarterback: A pair of juniors — Ken Mastrole and Trey Evans — are expected to resume their spring battle this fall for the right to replace Brian Cummings, who started 25 games over the past three seasons and finished his career listed among the top five on most major school passing categories.

Mastrole, a 6-3, 225-pounder, saw limited duty as a sophomore in '97 after starting three games in 1996. He holds a significant edge in game experience over the other quarterbacks, having thrown 108 career passes as a Terp. As a sophomore last season, Mastrole made seven relief appearances and threw 19 passes while backing up Cummings, who is now playing in the CFL. Two years ago Mastrole became the first quarterback in school history to start as a redshirt freshmen when he took the field vs. West Virginia. He went on to play a total of eight games in '96, completing 36 of 89 passes for 354 yards and one touchdown before breaking his collarbone vs. Duke.

"Ken has the only game experience and the most practice reps of the quarterbacks on our roster, and he will be given every opportunity to step up and assert himself in this role," says Vanderlinden.

Evans, also a fourth-year junior, has seen scant duty as a Terp but has positioned himself for a run at the starting job by improving his arm strength, accuracy and ability to run the offense.

"Both players made significant progress learning and executing the new Maryland offense during the spring," says Vanderlinden. "Mastrole has a strong arm and better than average mobility for a player his size. Evans demonstrated the ability to make plays under pressure in the spring.”

Behind Mastrole and Evans are a pair of redshirt freshmen, Gil Harris and Erik Lipton, and incoming freshman Calvin McCall (Orlando, Fla.).

Running Back: Sophomore LaMont Jordan, last year’s runner-up for ACC Rookie of the Year honors, headlines the Terps’ stable of running backs. A 5-11, 214-pounder out of Forestville, Md., Jordan is coming off a rookie campaign in which he established Maryland freshman standards for rushing yards (689) and attempts (159). His 689 yards ranked eighth nationally among true freshmen running backs, and his 920 all-purpose yards led all ACC freshmen.

Jordan, a 1998 preseason All-ACC selection who accounted for 71 percent of the Terps’ rushing yards last season, became the first rookie in Maryland history to register two 100-yard rushing games, turning the trick in games vs. Temple (135) and North Carolina State (126). His effort in the win over Temple earned him ACC Rookie of the Week honors. Jordan averaged 4.3 yards per carry and finished third on the team with 22 receptions in '97.

“LaMont Jordan has demonstrated the ability, speed and power to be rated among the ACC’s best backs,” says Vanderlinden.

Behind Jordan at the tailback spot are junior Harold Westley and sophomore Mukala Sikyala, Jr. The 5-7, 178-pound Westley rushed for 421 yards and a pair of touchdowns as a freshman in '96 before being shifted to wide receiver last year. Now bigger and stronger, Westley has returned to his more natural running back position, where the Terps hope to take advantage of his breakaway speed. Sikyala, a walk-on, also figures to contribute at this spot after

A newcomer to watch is Marc Riley, a 6-3, 205-pounder out of Coram, N.Y., who was rated among the Terps’ top signees this past February.

At fullback, the Terps return a pair of lettermen in sophomore Matt Kalapinski and junior Kenny Rogers. The 6-1, 225-pound Kalapinski, a tough inside runner and tenacious blocker, is back after picking up valuable playing experience as a true freshman, when he made four starts while appearing in all 11 games. Rogers, a 5-9, 198-pounder, is a versatile back who can also be utilized at the tailback spot. Also on the depth chart at the fullback position are Frank Mentzel and incoming freshman Chad Killian, an all-state choice out of Pittsburgh, Penn.

Wide Receiver: The Terps return seven lettermen who totaled 89 catches for 1,195 yards and seven touchdowns last season. Leading the way is redshirt sophomore Moises Cruz, who topped the team in receptions (29) and receiving yards (337) in '97. Cruz, who was not charged with a drop last season, had at least four receptions in five games in '97, including a season-high six grabs (for 91 yards) vs. Ohio.

Cruz enters fall camp listed No. 1 on the depth chart at the slot position, where he is backed up by returning two-year letterman Bruce James and one-year letterman Keon Russell. James, a 5-8, 173-pound senior, has totaled 47 catches for 511 yards and one touchdown in his career, but has been hampered by injuries.

At flanker, junior walk-on Jermaine Arrington moved to the top of the depth chart following an impressive spring showing. A 5-9, 172-pound junior who has the speed to get deep, Arrington showed flashes of big-play potential during spring drills.

Pushing Arrington at the flanker spot will be three returning lettermen: sophomore Omar Cheeseboro, senior Kendrick Walton and sophomore Doug Patterson. Cheeseboro, who was slowed in the spring by a pulled hamstring, is expected to be one of 'Terps' top playmakers in '98. Last year, the 6-2, 190-pound Cheeseboro led the team in touchdown catches (4) while finishing tied for fourth on the squad in receptions (14) and second in average yards per catch (14.7). Two of his four TD receptions came vs. North Carolina State.

Walton, a three-year letterman, rates as one of college football's truly inspirational stories in '98. The 6-2, 181-pounder missed the end of the '97 season and all of spring drills after developing a cancerous tumor in his mouth, but opted to return for his final collegiate season even though it means playing without most of his lower teeth, which had to be removed during surgery. Patterson is a true sophomore who totaled nine catches and averaged 13.7 yards per catch as a freshman in '97.

Sophomore letterman Jason Hatala, a 6-0, 174-pounder, heads the depth chart at split end, where he is backed by fellow sophomore Curtis Jones. Hatala last season averaged 20.4 yards per catch on 11 receptions, totaling a Maryland freshman record 129 receiving yards in a victory over Duke.

Incoming freshmen who will get a look from the coaching staff are Maurice Shaw (Suitland, Md.) and Guilian Gary (Horseheads, N.Y.).

Tight End: The Terps have improved themselves at this position with the addition of Wisconsin transfer John Waerig, and the development of sophomore Mike Hull and redshirt freshmen Eric James and Matt Murphy. True freshman Todd Wike, one of the prominent signees in the Terps' 1998 recruiting class, joins the fold following a stellar prep career in Lebanon, Pa.

Waerig, a 6-2, 261-pounder, played the 1995 and '96 seasons at Wisconsin before transferring to Maryland, where he redshirted the '97 campaign. A tough, physical tight end, he is an outstanding blocker and above-average receiver who figures to be an impact player for the 'Terps in '98.

Hull, who has added weight and strength in the off-season, was one of the 'Terps' top freshmen a year ago, making 10 starts and totaling 13 catches for 185 yards and one touchdown. James and Murphy, both of whom continue to progress in the Maryland system, return after redshirting in '97.

Offensive Line: The coaching staff is expecting significant improvement from the 'Terps' offensive front, which returns three starters from a year ago. "Our intent," says Vanderlinden, "is to put the best five linemen on the field, so there could possibly be several position changes before we settle on a starting unit. We are looking for ability, toughness, and a relentless attitude."

Anchoring the offensive line is 6-7, 299-pound senior John Feugill, an 11-game starter at right tackle in '97 who has had 23 starting assignments during his Maryland career. A preseason All-ACC choice by Athlon, Feugill "was the most consistent performer on the 1997 offensive line and is looked to be the leader in that group this season," says Vanderlinden.

The Terps also return starters in 6-2, 271-pound sophomore Ben Thomas and 6-5, 284-pound junior Brad Messina. Thomas, an 11-game starter at center as a redshirt freshman, "has the ability and now the experience to assert himself as one of the better centers in the ACC," says Vanderlinden. Messina, an 11-game starter at left guard, has shifted to left tackle where the coaching staff wants to take advantage of his size and athleticism in their bid to replace Darryl Gilliam, who made 32 starts during his four-year

Wu is backed by 6-5, 284-pound redshirt freshman Chris Snader and 6-4, 290-pound sophomore Timm Howard. At left guard, 6-3, 278-pound junior Eric Timothy and 6-4, 287-pound redshirt freshman Mike George are waging a close battle for the starting job.

Three freshmen newcomers include guard Bob Krantz (Clifton, Va.), center Sam Marvis (Greensburg, Pa.) and tackle Matt Crawford (Moravia, N.Y.).

Defensive Line: Junior nose tackle Delbert Cowsette is the lone returning starter on a defensive front that is undergoing some major reconstruction. Manning the defensive end positions going into fall camp are senior letterman Rasheed Simmons and junior letterman Peter Timmins. The 6-5, 244-pound Simmons, a former Michigan transfer, was a five-game starter in '97 who totaled 32 tackles and a pair of sacks. The 6-3, 240-pound Timmins has been shifted to defense after starting much of last season at the H-back spot.

"Rasheed Simmons improved steadily throughout the '97 season and has a chance to emerge as a solid defensive end in the ACC," says Vanderlinden. "Timmins has shown the quickness and ability to get off blocks and make plays that you look for at that position."

Lending depth behind Simmons are 6-3, 237-pound junior Eric Calendine and 6-1, 246-pound redshirt freshman Albert Surman. Backing Timmins is 6-1, 238-pound junior Jomo Huggins and 6-2, 231-pound senior walk-on Chris Hayes. Sanders, the Terps’ fastest player and most consistent defensive back last season, will sit out the ’98 campaign while he continues to rehabilitate nerve damage in his right shoulder suffered in the season finale vs. Georgia Tech. A year ago, Sanders finished tied for third in the ACC in interceptions (4) and ranked third on the team in tackles (74). He also played an important role on special teams, ranking fifth in the ACC in kickoff return average (24.2).

Paul Jackson, a 5-11, 192-pound two-year letterman, is expected to step in and replace Sanders at the free safety spot. Paul Jackson, who is backed up by 6-1, 202-pound sophomore Tony Jackson, saw significant playing time as a junior a year ago, totaling three interceptions and 27 tackles in 11 games. Tony Jackson saw limited playing time in ’97 but has shown an ability to be a playmaker — he had two interceptions last year and eight pick-offs this past spring.

The 5-10, 172-pound Crosby, a four-game starter in ’97, totaled 28 tackles in six games. Backing up at the corner positions are senior letterman Quinzy Fraser and juniors Bryn Boggs and Mike Castleberry. The Terps will have two newcomers at cornerback: Renard Cox, a junior college transfer out of Lackawanna JC in Pennsylvania, is expected to step in and make immediate contributions, and true freshman Tony Okanlawon of Forestville, Md.

Kicking Game: Sophomore kicker Brian Kopka returns after sharing the team lead in scoring (30 points) last season. Kopka, who became only the third true freshman to kick for the Terps, took over the placekicking chores in the season’s fourth game and went on to convert six of 10 field goal attempts and 12 of 13 PAT tries in ’97. Kopka earned ACC Rookie of the Week honors following the Duke game, when he connected on all three of his field goal attempts in a 16-10 Maryland win. Pushing Kopka for the starting placekicking chores is senior Brad Rhodes, a three-year letterman who has made 10 of 11 PAT attempts and 2 of 6 field goal tries during his career.

Senior Russ Edwards is back as the team’s starting punter after posting a 38.0-yard average as a junior in 1997. Edwards will be challenged for the starting job by third-year sophomore Sean Starner, who saw limited action last season.

Back to handle the long-snapping duties are sophomore Scott Rudolph and junior John Helmer.

Game 1

Ohio 21
Maryland 14

Sept. 6, 1997
Byrd Stadium
Attendance: 30,100

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — Maryland began the season by scoring touchdowns on its first two possessions of the season, but that was all the scoring the Terps did in a 21-14 season-opening loss to Ohio. Senior tailback Buddy Rodgers capped off a 77-yard, 16-play opening drive with a one-yard run up the middle to put the Terps ahead 7-0. On its second possession, Maryland quarterback Brian Cummings hit receiver Moises Cruz with a 35-yard touchdown pass on the first play of the second quarter. Cummings completed 16 of 24 passes for 180 yards, and his 66.7 completion percentage marked the seventh time in his career that he completed 60 percent or more of his passes in a single game. Ohio accounted for the only scoring in the second half. Bobcat quarterback Kareem Wilson scored on a one-yard run with 12:05 remaining in the third quarter to tie the game at 14, then halfback John Cosgrove scored the winning touchdown on a five-yard run with 12:04 remaining in the contest.

Attendance: 72,237

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — LaMont Jordan began his personal 1997 highlight show with an impressive outing before an ABC television audience. Jordan scored his first career touchdown on a 44-yard run — the fourth longest by a freshman in school history — with six minutes remaining in the second quarter. It would also hold up as the longest run from scrimmage by a Terp in 1997. Several other Terps set personal marks as well. Freshman Tony Jackson posted his first career interception and junior defensive end Rasheed Simmons recorded his first career sack as a Terp. He also had three tackles behind the line of scrimmage for a total of minus-21 yards. Eric Barton recorded two of the Terps' four sacks.

Attendance: 30,084

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — Maryland came out strong behind quarterback Brian Cummings and a solid defense. The Terps shut out the No. 6 team in the country for the first 22 minutes and took an early lead on a three-yard run from Cummings with 11:50 remaining in the half. But the Tar Heels responded with 33 unanswered points on way to a 40-14 victory. On the defensive side for Maryland, Eric Barton recorded a career-high 17 tackles, 11 of which were unassisted, and sophomore Lewis Sanders added seven tackles. Maryland's day was highlighted by a 90-yard kickoff return for a TD by Sanders. It marked the third time since 1981 that a Terp went the distance on a kickoff. On the ground, senior running back Brian Underwood rushed for 63 yards in 16 attempts to become the 19th Terp to surpass the 1,000 career yard mark.

Game 5

Duke 10
Maryland 16

Oct. 4, 1997
Byrd Stadium
Attendance: 23,206

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — It was a day for two Terrapin freshmen to remember as Maryland won its first home game of the season, 16-10. Freshman Brian Kopka hit three field goals and Jason Hatala had three receptions for a Maryland freshman record 129 yards and one touchdown. The two freshmen accounted for all of Maryland's points. Kopka was the first true freshman to kick a field goal since 1985. His 47-yard field goal just missed the freshman record by one yard. His performance earned him ACC Freshman of the Week honors. Among Hatala's receptions was a 76-yard touchdown pass from Brian Cummings on the game's first play from scrimmage, which marked the longest pass completion of Cummings' career. Defensive end Eric Ogbogu had four tackles, one fumble recovery, one caused fumble, and one pass broken up. In addition, he tipped a pass that was intercepted by junior defensive back Paul Jackson and led to Kopka's first field goal as a Terp. Ogbogu had a hand in all three of Maryland's forced turnovers.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — Maryland tailback Buddy Rodgers emerged from an injury-plagued drought to gain 103 all-purpose yards in a losing effort against West Virginia. Before a season-high crowd of 31,210 at Byrd Stadium, the Mountaineers jumped out to an early 14-0 lead, but the Terps rallied back to within 10 points in the third quarter. The defense was once again a strong point for Maryland as junior linebacker Kendall Ogle recorded a team-high 13 tackles and Erwyn Lyght had eight. The Terps were led by Brian Cummings, who became only the 10th Maryland quarterback to exceed the 3,000-yard passing mark, and freshman Mike Hull, who had career highs in receptions (4) and receiving yards (40) in addition to recording his first career touchdown. Special teams also came up big for the Terps, who forced a fumble that was recovered by Kenny Rogers.

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. — Despite scoring 14 consecutive points in the second quarter to pull within four at the half, Maryland was unable to sustain its momentum after intermission and lost 35-17 to Wake Forest. A crowd of 17,983 at Groves Stadium saw the Terrapins trailing the Demon Deacons 21-3 with 12:51 left in the first half. However, Maryland would score 14 consecutive points off senior quarterback Brian Cummings' two touchdown passes: a 32-yarder to redshirt freshman wide receiver Omar Cheeseboro and a 12-yarder to Jason Hatala. Cummings had a career performance as he set personal bests for attempts (47) and completions (27). He also totaled 289 yards passing, the second highest total of his career. On defense, junior linebacker Eric Barton made his presence felt despite having his right hand covered by a cast. Barton recorded 14 tackles, 10 of them solo stops.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — The ACC's top three linebackers dictated the flow the game. Maryland's Kendall Ogle and Eric Barton and Clemson's Anthony Simmons surrounded the ball all day. Ogle contributed a career-high 17 tackles and Barton added 15 despite playing with a cast on his right hand. Simmons would not be outdone, as he compiled 20 tackles on his way to winning the conference's tackle title. Maryland's touchdown was set up by Ogle's first career interception late in the second quarter. Freshman tailback LaMont Jordan converted the turnover into a four-yard TD run with 1:52 remaining in the half to put the Terps up, 9-7. Clemson's Raymond Priester proved to be the difference, as he rushed for 204 yards and put the game out of reach with an eight-yard TD rush with 7:30 remaining.

Game 11

Maryland 18
Georgia Tech 37

Nov. 22, 1997
Bobby Dodd Stadium
Attendance: 35,267

ATLANTA, Ga. — LaMont Jordan, who opened his rookie season in impressive style, closed it the same way in a 37-18 loss to Georgia Tech. Jordan, who led all ACC freshmen in rushing yardage, broke his own school record for rushing attempts by a freshman when he carried the ball 25 times vs. the Yellow Jackets. Jordan, who opened the game's scoring with a four-yard touchdown run in the first quarter, just missed attaining his third 100-yard rushing game of the season. Jordan's touchdown was set up by an Eric Hicks fumble recovery — the first of three fumble recoveries on the afternoon by the Terps, who, despite winning statistical battles for time of possession (32:15 to 27:45) and takeaways (4-2), could not overcome a 501-yard offensive output by Georgia Tech. The Jackets were led by QB Joe Hamilton, who threw for 265 yards and three touchdowns.

FINAL SEASON NOTES

The Terrapins completed Year No. 1 of the Ron Vanderlinden era with an overall mark of 2-9 and an Atlantic Coast Conference record of 1-7.

Maryland's victories in 1997 came on consecutive weekends — a 24-21 win in Philadelphia over Temple and a 16-10 victory in College Park vs. ACC foe Duke.

Linebackers Kendall Ogle and Eric Barton finished 2-3 in the ACC tackle race. Ogle had 138 tackles to finish second in the ACC, Barton had 134 to finish third. LaMont Jordan of Forestville, Md., established Maryland single-game and single-season freshman rushing-yardage records. Newcomers played a major role for the Terps in '97, with 13 true or redshirt freshmen seeing action during the season. Head coach Ron Vanderlinden earned his first career major college coaching victory with a 24-21 win over Temple on Sept. 27.

Quarterback Brian Cummings Earns Team MVP Honors

Senior quarterback Brian Cummings was elected MVP by his teammates after posting personal bests for completions (154), attempts (255), yards (1,760) and touchdown passes (10) in 1997. He also finished his career in the school's top five for the aforementioned categories. The three-year starter's 60.4% completion rate was the seventh-highest single-season total in Maryland history. Cummings finished his four-year career by completing 344 of 594 passes (57.9%) for 4,080 yards and 22 touchdowns.

LaMont Jordan Shatters Terps' Rookie Rushing Standards

True freshman LaMont Jordan impressed the entire ACC with his powerful rushing game in 1997. Jordan led all ACC freshmen in rushing yards (689), attempts (159) and all-purpose yards (920). His 689 yards also ranked fourth in the conference. His season totals for yards and attempts were Maryland freshman single-season records, and he also established Maryland freshman single-game marks for yards (135, vs. Temple) and attempts (25, vs. Georgia Tech). He also became the first freshman in school history to have two 100-yard rushing efforts in a single season. Jordan accounted for 71% of the Terps' rushing yards in 1997. He was named ACC Rookie of the Week Sept. 29 following his 135-yard effort vs. Temple.

Ogle/Barton: Maryland's Bookend Linebackers Finish 2-3 in ACC Tackles

Juniors Kendall Ogle and Eric Barton combined to form the most prolific linebacking duo in the ACC. Ogle and Barton, Maryland's starting outside backers, finished 2-3 in the ACC tackle race, combining for 272 stops in 1997. Ogle's 138 stops were a team-high and second only to Clemson's Anthony Simmons (144). Barton finished with 134 total tackles, including a team-high 85 solos. With Clemson's Simmons declaring for the NFL draft, Ogle and Barton are the ACC's leading returning tacklers. Both Ogle and Barton were Butkus Award nominees in '97.

Terps in the Hall of Fame

BOB WARD

• National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame

Bob Ward weighed all of 165 pounds throughout his four-year playing career at Maryland and, even in the early 1950s, that was no size for a lineman. Especially a lineman who was a first-team All-America middle guard on defense as a junior in 1950 and a first-team offensive guard as a senior in 1951.

The forte of the Maryland teams of the early 1950s was consistency—a winning consistency. During Ward's four years, the team was a combined 32-7-1, winning two bowl games (1949 Gator over Missouri, 1951 Sugar over Tennessee to complete a perfect 10-0 season).

The awards and honors Ward earned as a Maryland player belie physical stature, but speak volumes about the man. He was the MVP of the 1949 Gator Bowl, Maryland's first bowl victory. He was the only player ever to earn All-America honors as both an offensive and defensive position player. He earned Southern Conference Player of the Year honors as a senior and was chosen Lineman of the Year by the Washington Touchdown Club and the Philadelphia Sportswriters Association in 1951.

Bob Ward was inducted into the National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame in 1980.

Bob Ward was the first Terp inducted into the National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame.

JACK SCARBATH

• National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame

Jack Scarbath is an integral part of Maryland football history. In his first start, the All-America quarterback scored the first touchdown in the new Byrd Stadium, a 21-yard run in the first game of the 1950 season.

Scarbath was the quarterback for head coach Jim Tatum's new Split T offense for three seasons (1950-1952). Scarbath led the Terps to a 24-4-1 record, including a perfect 10-0 record and Sugar Bowl victory in 1951. In that time, he rewrote the Terrapin record books. Scarbath completed 125 of 260 passes for 2,287 yards, an average of 18.3 yards for every completion.

After his senior season, Scarbath finished runner-up to Oklahoma's Billy Vessels in the voting for the Heisman Trophy, was a first-team All-America quarterback and a first-round draft choice of the Washington Redskins.

He was inducted into the National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame in 1983.

JIM TATUM

• National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame

In a brief time as a college football head coach—one season at North Carolina (1942, 5-2-2), one at Oklahoma (1946, 8-3, Gator Bowl victory over North Carolina State) and nine years at Maryland (1947-55, 73-15-4, 2-2-1 in bowl games)—Jim Tatum had become a coaching legend.

Tatum's teams from 1950-1955 were 51-8-2, with a perfect 10-0 record and Sugar Bowl victory in 1951. The squad marked 10-0 regular season records in 1953 and 1955 before both teams were upset by Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl, with the 1953 team the declared national champion.

Tatum left to return to his alma mater, North Carolina, in 1956.

He was inducted into the National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame in 1984.

STAN JONES

• Pro Football Hall of Fame

Stan Jones was the starting right tackle on the Terp defense that allowed only 31 points during 10 regular season games in 1953. With Jones leading the way, Maryland recorded six shutouts and allowed only one team, Georgia, to score more than six points. He earned All-America honors that season and was chosen "Outstanding College Lineman of 1953" by the College Football Coaching Board.

After his All-America career as a Terp, he served 13 years in the National Football League. He played for the Chicago Bears for 12 seasons and finished his career as a Washington Redskin.

"I was very prepared for the NFL when I left Maryland," Jones said. "From my coaches who taught me football to my professors who taught me anatomy, physiology and weight training, I received a great education. I couldn't have picked a better place to go — they picked me and there was not a better place to be."

Stan Jones was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame on July 27, 1991.

DICK MODZELEWSKI

• National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame

• Outland Trophy Winner

Through three All-America years at Maryland and 14 All-Pro years in the National Football League, Dick Modzelewski was always "Little Mo." At 6-0, 235 pounds during his playing days at Maryland, he was one of the bigger collegiate linemen during the early 1950s. He was the second Mo at Maryland, so he had to be "Little" to his older brother Ed, "Big Mo."

Dick Modzelewski played three years as defensive tackle for the Terps on the great teams which were 24-4-1. He would become Maryland's first winner of a major national honor when he received the Outland Trophy as the nation's top lineman in 1952.

Terps in the Hall of Fame

A 1993 inductee into the National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame, Dick Modzelewski was the 1952 winner of the Outland Trophy.

Through his career at Maryland, the Terps fashioned a 22-game unbeaten streak. The "Little Mo" led defense allowed only 147 points with only four teams scoring better than a touchdown while six were shut out.

At the end of his senior season, Modzelewski was named to every All-America team and was awarded the Outland Trophy. He was a second-round draft choice of the Washington Redskins, while teammate Jack Scarbath was the Redskins' first pick. He spent 14 seasons in the National Football League, splitting time with the Redskins, the Pittsburgh Steelers, the New York Giants and Cleveland Browns. Modzelewski was an All-Pro and on NFL Championship teams with both the Giants (1956) and the Browns (1964). After retirement, he became a defensive line coach for Cincinnati, helping the Bengals to the 1982 Super Bowl.

Dick Modzelewski was inducted into the National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame in 1993.

RANDY WHITE

- National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame
- Pro Football Hall of Fame
- Lombardi and Outland Trophies Winner

Randy White changed the look of football's defensive lines. At Maryland, and later in an All-Pro National Football League career with the Dallas Cowboys, he was regarded as the quickest defensive lineman to play the game. He could be in an opponent's backfield before a quarterback could make a hand-off.

In 1974, Randy White cleaned up the college football awards plate. He was honored with the Outland and Lombardi trophies as the top collegiate lineman, was ACC Player of the Year, was an unanimous first-team All-America choice, named the Delaware (his home state) Athlete of the Year and named the Amateur Athlete of the Year by the Philadelphia Sportswriters Association.

A first round draft choice of the Dallas Cowboys (the second player selected overall), White was an All-Pro performer throughout his career and shared Super Bowl MVP honors with Dallas teammate Harvey Martin when the Cowboys defeated Denver in Super Bowl XII.

No one else will wear "94" at Maryland—Randy White's number has been retired.

He was inducted into the National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame and the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1994.

BOB PELLEGRINI

- National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame

Bob Pellegrini was recruited to Maryland as a quarterback, but made his name as one of college football's best linemen. In his first season, Pellegrini was a 6-2, 215-pound sophomore guard for the 1953 national champion Terrapins. He would play guard again in 1954 in an era when players went both ways, before being switched to center for his senior year to fill a Terrapin void.

As a senior, Pellegrini led Maryland to its second 10-0 regular season and ACC championship in three years as the Terps defeated defending national champion UCLA. He was selected ACC Player of the Year, named consensus All-America and pictured as Herman Hickman's cover boy for Lineman of the Year in 1955.

Pellegrini led the Terps to a 27-4-1 record over his career, with rankings in the Top 10 each season. He was the first pick in the National Football League draft by the Philadelphia Eagles. Pellegrini became one of the building blocks of an Eagle turnaround that took the team to the top of the football world. A losing team when he joined, the Eagles defeated Vince Lombardi's

The Bulldogs threatened to win the game in the closing seconds, but time ran out with Georgia on Maryland's four-yard line. Despite the tie, there was no question as to the game's most valuable player. Gambino won the Burkhalter Award, signifying the game's outstanding performer. Gambino was inducted into the Gator Bowl Hall of Fame in 1992.

Maryland came away from its first bowl game in 18 years a bitterly disappointed team. The Terrapins dominated Georgia in all phases, but the game was tied 10-10 at the half thanks to a couple of big plays by the Bulldogs. The Maryland defense, led by All-ACC defensive tackle Randy White, shut out Tennessee for nearly four quarters but lost the game when the Volunteers' quarterback Randy Wallace found Larry Sievers for an 11-yard touchdown pass with 2:08 to play. ## Gator Bowl

Jacksonville, FL
December 29, 1975

Maryland	13

The ACC champion Terrapins headed into the 1975 Gator Bowl as a seven-point underdog to the Florida Gators. However, this did not deter the Terps, who were coming off their best season (8-2-1) in 20 years. Maryland shut out the Gators, 13-0, in front of a large pro-Florida crowd in a steady downpour. The Maryland defense held the SEC's total offense leader scoreless and intercepted two Florida passes which led to the first 10 Maryland points. This was the first Terp win over an SEC team since 1955 and their first bowl win since the 1952 Sugar Bowl.

Hall of Fame Bowl

Birmingham, AL
December 22, 1977

Maryland 17

Maryland entered the 1977 Cotton Bowl with a perfect 11-0 record, but the hopes for a perfect season were dashed quickly when Houston scored 21 first quarter points en route to a 30-21 win. The Cougars rushed for a total of 320 yards in the game and 144 in the 21-point first quarter. The Terps cut the lead to 27-21 in the fourth quarter, but a 5:42 drive by the Cougars late in the quarter resulted in a field goal, slamming the door on any Terp comeback hopes.

After allowing an early Minnesota touchdown run, the Terps scored the next 17 points and shut out the Golden Gophers over the next three quarters to leave Birmingham with a 17-7 win. Offensively, the Terps looked to George Scott who rushed for 75 yards and two second quarter touchdowns to put Maryland in the lead for good. The Maryland defense held the Gophers to only 69 yards of total offense in the second half.

Maryland's Charlie Wysocki rushed for 159 yards and a touchdown, but it was not enough to overcome the passing attack of the Gators' Wayne Peace, who threw for 271 yards and two touchdowns. Peace's favorite receiver, Cris Collinsworth, caught eight passes for 166 yards, including a 21-yard touchdown catch that led to Florida's 21-20 lead. Maryland's Dale Castro tied a Tangerine Bowl record and established a new Terrapin bowl record when he booted his fourth field goal in the third quarter.

The Maryland Terrapins and Washington Huskies made sure the fans who went to the inaugural Aloha Bowl got their money's worth. The Huskies' touchdown with :06 left secured Washington's come-from-behind, 21-20 victory. The Terps had a chance to go up by nine points with 3:39 left to play, but Jess Atkinson's 32-yard field goal attempt fell short. This after the Terps had fallen behind 14-6 in the first half and Boomer Esiason completed 10 passes for 120 yards and a touchdown in the third quarter to give Maryland a 20-14 lead.

The Tennessee Volunteers scored two touchdowns in the fourth quarter to overcome a 20-16 deficit and defeat the Terps, 30-23, in the 1983 Citrus Bowl. Maryland took a four-point lead into the fourth quarter, thanks to outstanding play from reserve quarterback Frank Reich. Reich entered the game in the second quarter when starter Boomer Esiason suffered a shoulder injury. Reich's one mistake of the day, an interception early in the fourth quarter, set the Volunteers up on Maryland's 14-yard line and led to a Tennessee touchdown run that was the difference in the game.

Maryland 28

The Maryland Terrapins were truly the comeback team of 1984. Maryland trailed Tennessee 21-0 at halftime and erupted for a Terrapin bowl record 22 points in the third quarter. Frank Reich's third quarter touchdown pass to Ferrell Edmunds put the Terps up 22-21, but the ensuing kickoff was returned for a touchdown by the Volunteers to give them a 27-22 lead. Then with 8:03 left to play, the Terps' offense pounded out a 5:05 drive that was capped off by a one-yard scoring run by Rick Bandajek for the game-winning touchdown.

Quarterback Stan Gelbaugh completed 14 passes for 223 yards, threw two touchdowns and rushed for another as Maryland defeated Syracuse 35-18. The Terrapins, who trailed 3-0 early in the first quarter, took their first lead thanks to Gelbaugh's four-yard touchdown run. Trailing 10-6 in the second quarter, Gelbaugh hit tight end Chris Knight for a three-yard score to put the Terps in the lead for good. The touchdown pass also was the start of a 22-point second quarter that tied a Maryland bowl record for points scored in a quarter.

The Terrapins fell behind 31-20 early in the fourth quarter but rallied to take the lead when Scott Zolak threw a 15-yard touchdown pass to Brad Johnson with :52 remaining. However on the ensuing kickoff, Tech's Lorenzo Baker returned the kick 41 yards to start the Bulldog drive on the Maryland 39-yard line. Five plays and 28 yards later, Boniol kicked his second field goal of the game to even the score.

General Information

University of Maryland

The Campus

The University of Maryland, College Park, is the most comprehensive institution of higher education, research and service in the state. The university offers 100 undergraduate majors, 88 master's programs and 69 doctoral programs in 13 colleges and schools.

The university is one of only 30 public research universities that are members of the prestigious 58-member Association of American Universities. It is classified as a Research-1 university by the Carnegie Foundation by virtue of the range of its baccalaureate programs, the amount of federal support received and the number of doctoral degrees awarded each year, sharing that honor with the top research universities in the country.

Among the public universities in the Association of American Universities, Maryland ranks among the top in percentage of African-American undergraduate students. In addition, the university has the largest number of African-Americans and other minority members among its peers.

History

The University of Maryland was founded in 1807 in Baltimore as a faculty-owned College of Medicine. The medical school was considered one of the top schools in the country, attracting notable professors and lecturers from throughout the world. In its beginning, tuition cost $140, grades were sent home weekly to parents, and students could obtain room and board for $300 annually.

Five years later, the growing institution was renamed the University of Maryland. Despite the name, the university was not considered a state institution as it was still owned and operated by the faculty. Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, the first dental school in America, became part of the university in 1840, awarding the first Doctor of Dental Surgery (D.D.S) degree in 1841.

In 1859, the Maryland Agricultural College, which would evolve into the University of Maryland, College Park, was opened under a charter secured by a group of Maryland planters in 1856. In addition to spending one hour each day hoeing or plowing on the college farm, students took a broad range of courses in ancient and modern languages, natural sciences, English and mathematics. After a disastrous fire on campus in 1912, the state acquired the college and rebuilt it.

In 1920, the state legislature combined the College Park institution with the professional schools in Baltimore to form an expanded University of Maryland. The entity eventually grew to include campuses in Baltimore County, on the Eastern Shore and the worldwide University College, a continuing education institution.

The following decades saw the increasing growth of student population, excellence in programs and curricula and the burgeoning of the University of Maryland, College Park, into a nationally recognized research institution.

July 1, 1988, marked the dawn of a new era in higher education for the state of Maryland, as the five components of the university were merged with six other state universities and colleges to form the University System of Maryland, and College Park secured its flagship status with a mandate to become one of the pre-eminent research universities in the nation.

Research

The unique role of American research universities in advancing science and technology has kept the United States in the forefront of innovation and product development. Research dollars from federal and state agencies, corporations and foundations fuel much of the basic and applied research activity of the University of Maryland's faculty and graduate students.

The university has unique facilities, research centers and institutes that attract new research projects and funding, as well as provide expanded knowledge in business, science and technology. The A. James Clark School of Engineering houses the Glenn L. Martin Wind Tunnel — the most advanced aerodynamic testing facility of its kind on any university campus — and the Neutral Buoyancy Facility, which simulates weightlessness for space research, the only such facility on a university campus. Other specialized facilities include: Computer Vision Laboratory; Bioprocess-Scale up Laboratory; Laboratory for Ion Beam Research and Application; Superconductivity Research Center, Laboratory for Plasma and Fusion Studies; Psycholinguistics Laboratory; Computer-Assisted Cartographic Laboratories; Developmental Psychology Laboratory and the Center on Aging.

Service

Programs of public service are central to the overall mission of the university. The philosophy is reflected in the wide array of programs and initiatives that benefit the state's business, agriculture and education communities.

With more than 90 high technology firms in the three-county area of Montgomery, Prince George's and Frederick counties, the university has found abundant opportunity to extend its business and technology outreach programs to the region. Many of these programs are part of the Engineering Research Center, which operates the Technology Advancement Program and the Maryland Industrial Partnerships, programs designed to provide Maryland entrepreneurs and small businesses with research facilities, technical assistance, administrative support and access to technology that will advance their economic base.

The Institute for Systems Research has formed partnerships with major corporations, including Lockheed Martin, Westinghouse, BF Goodrich, Hughes Aircraft and Dupont to apply advanced systems research to solving industry problems in the fields of communications, manufacturing, controls and robotics.

The University of Maryland features a diversity of cultural and recreational activities. Four art galleries, more than 200 annual musical performances and countless dance and theater productions, expose audiences to the broadest range of programs in the arts. And intercollegiate, club and intramural sports provide students of all levels an opportunity to participate as spectators or athletes.

The Libraries

The seven libraries at the university constitute the largest university research library institution in the Washington metropolitan area, providing vital resources to researchers, visiting scholars, and businesses throughout the region. The libraries' holdings include more than 2.5 million volumes, 24,000 subscriptions to periodicals and nearly 5 million items available in microfilm format. University libraries also offer several nationally and internationally recognized special collections such as the International Piano Archives at Maryland, the National Trust for Historic Preservation and the National Public Broadcasting Archives.

The Alumni

Graduates of the university go on to distinguished careers in many fields. Chosen from thousands of qualified alumni, an inaugural group was inducted into the University of Maryland Alumni Association Hall of Fame in 1995. They included 21 outstanding individuals who have brought, and continue to bring, great honor to their alma mater. Their achievements are as varied as their lives, but they all have one thing in common: a degree from the University of Maryland, College Park.

University Traditions

Testudo is a Diamondback turtle. Like some other famous personages born into the Depression of the 1930s, the derivation of his name is cloudy. But it is likely that his moniker is derived from the scientific classification for turtle (testudines). Or the top turtle could be named after testudo gigantia, a species native to the African nation of Seychelles and one of its remote islands, Aldabra. Or the name could have come from a dictionary definition that says the word, testudo, was derived from the Latin and meant a shelter held over the head of Roman soldiers—like a tortoise shell. These explanations are a long way from the Chesapeake Bay where the Diamondback lives.

Anne Arundel Hall

When Testudo had his coming out on May 23, 1933, he was thrown into a world filled with intimidating mascots—Wildcats, Tigers, Devils, Wolves, Bears—thought up over a half-century of intercollegiate competition. The University of Maryland, College Park, was consolidated from different state schools in 1920 to form the base of today's wide-ranging state system, and the remodeled Maryland needed a flag carrier to do battle with Wahoos, Lions and Generals.

Dr. H.C. Byrd, a football coach who later became university president, recommended the Diamondback as mascot in 1932 in response to the student newspaper's search for an "official" leader. Byrd's childhood in Crisfield, Md., apparently included skirmishes with this brand of snapping turtle, indigenous to the Chesapeake Bay. The school paper was in fact already called the Diamondback, and when the Class of 1933 stepped forward with the idea of giving the university a permanent bronzed version as its graduation gift, Testudo was in to stay.

Maryland had been referring to itself as Old Liners, yet another name whose derivation no one seems sure of. Historians are in a skirmish over whether the nickname is a reference to a Revolutionary War Troop of Maryland soldiers who distinguished themselves on the field of battle, or they feel it could refer to a squabble with Pennsylvanians over just where the border between the two states should be.

University of Maryland

The Class of '33 raised money for casting a Diamondback by holding its senior prom on campus to save money on expenses. And the yearbook and Student Government Association chipped in. Edwin C. Mayo, Class of '04 and a former quartermaster, donated at cost the 300-pound bronzed beauty as President of Gorham Manufacturing in Providence, R.I. Robert J. Hill cast the inspired sculpture accomplished by company artist Aristide Cianfrani. Further turtleization came when the student yearbook, The Reveille, became The Terrapin in 1935. Newspapers, even then exploring every angle, shortened Terrapin to Terp for headline writing ease when it wasn't trying to cram Old Liner into a single column head. The name was in place; now came the stuff of legend.

The Stuff of Legend

The nicely thought out plans that made Testudo an instant hit did have a flaw. Putting Mr. T in front of the campus gym, Ritchie Coliseum, exposed Testudo to every road agent wearing enemy colors. Ritchie was right on U.S. Route 1, then the principal North-South highway along the Eastern Seaboard. When a less dignified opponent needed something extra against the turtle and his troops, they practiced emotional blackmail, and kidnapped him.

That was not the worst of it. They painted his golden skin enemy colors, and defaced his pedestal which was only to have the block M on it. Instead, opponents painted illegitimate JH's or GW's or V's or NC's on his nest. A riot took place when Johns Hopkins students kidnapped the handsome reptile in 1947; 200 police were called to the Baltimore campus to control the justified anger of College Park students. Two years later, the nifty shelled crusader was found on the lawn of a University of Virginia fraternity house, whose occupants smugly called President Byrd with the message to get Testudo off their lawn. Of course Byrd obliged, and soon after Testudo was hidden in the campus carpentry shop where he was less inspirational, but a whole lot safer.

The second stadium bearing Byrd's name was built in 1950, and in 1951 Testudo, sans coats of rivals' paint, took his perch in front of the Byrd Stadium football team house. He had beaten back all who would wrong him, and to make sure he would not travel again, he was fed 700 pounds of cement and had his body attached to a new pedestal by long steel rods.

With his permanent nesting came success for Maryland. Acting as guardian to waves of Terp competitors, the national football championship came, as did several ACC titles in the 1950s. His popularity among the students might have been the undoing of success, however. When McKeldin Library was constructed in the middle of campus, the student body demanded Testudo's full-time presence in the center of day-to-day activities. Testudo had gone far beyond being just a symbol for athletics. He was a campus symbol. Students carefully carried him up the hill to the main College Green and the library, and he was bolted to a new bed of stone in the early 1960s.

Coincidence or not, football

University of Maryland

did have a downturn in the 1960s with Testudo absent. In the 1970s, when a costumed Testudo started to roam the sideline, success was returning. The furry Testudo reigned over unrivaled ACC football prowess, and sent Terps out to the four corners of the football world for bowls and intersectional clashes.

In 1992, a bronze duplicate to Testudo was created and installed just outside the new Football Complex and taken back to Meisner's factory where the first duplicate was created using the Lost Wax method.

While Testudo was being copied by Meisner Co. in front of McKeldin, the research library was undergoing extensive refurbishment. As part of the new interior and exterior McKeldin received, the original Testudo was given a new pedestal and his bronze coat was locker room door. As the football team takes the field the team congregates around the bronze Terrapin, and then all touch his nose for good luck. In 1995, Testudo was again duplicated as a bronze Terrapin statue was placed in Cole Field House as part of the lobby refurbishment.

Joel Meisner Co. of Farmingdale, N.Y., created the duplicates. Two men spent two days in June of 1992 pouring a rubberized material over Testudo as it sat in front of McKeldin Library, followed by a wax mold on top. After a day to let the molds set, the wax was broken and easily removed. The rubber mold, which actually recreated Testudo, was painstakingly peeled away from the bronze cleaned. The Class of '33, which created Testudo in the first place, used its 60th reunion to dedicate the rejuvenated campus symbol.

Sixty-five years ago, the Diamondback Turtle Gorham used as a model for the shelled wonder had a ribbon attached to it at the dedication. The ribbon was tied to the canvas covering the statue. The Diamondback moved forward, and revealed the splendor of his larger, bronzed brother. But no one rushed the smaller Diamondback in his duties. All in attendance were true believers who knew what many unfaithful have discovered about Terrapins. They bite.

University President

Dr. C.D. Mote, Jr.

Dan Mote was appointed 27th president of the University of Maryland June 2, 1998. He comes to Maryland from the University of California, Berkeley, where he was Vice Chancellor of University Relations, President of the UC Berkeley Foundation, and held an endowed chair in Mechanical Systems.

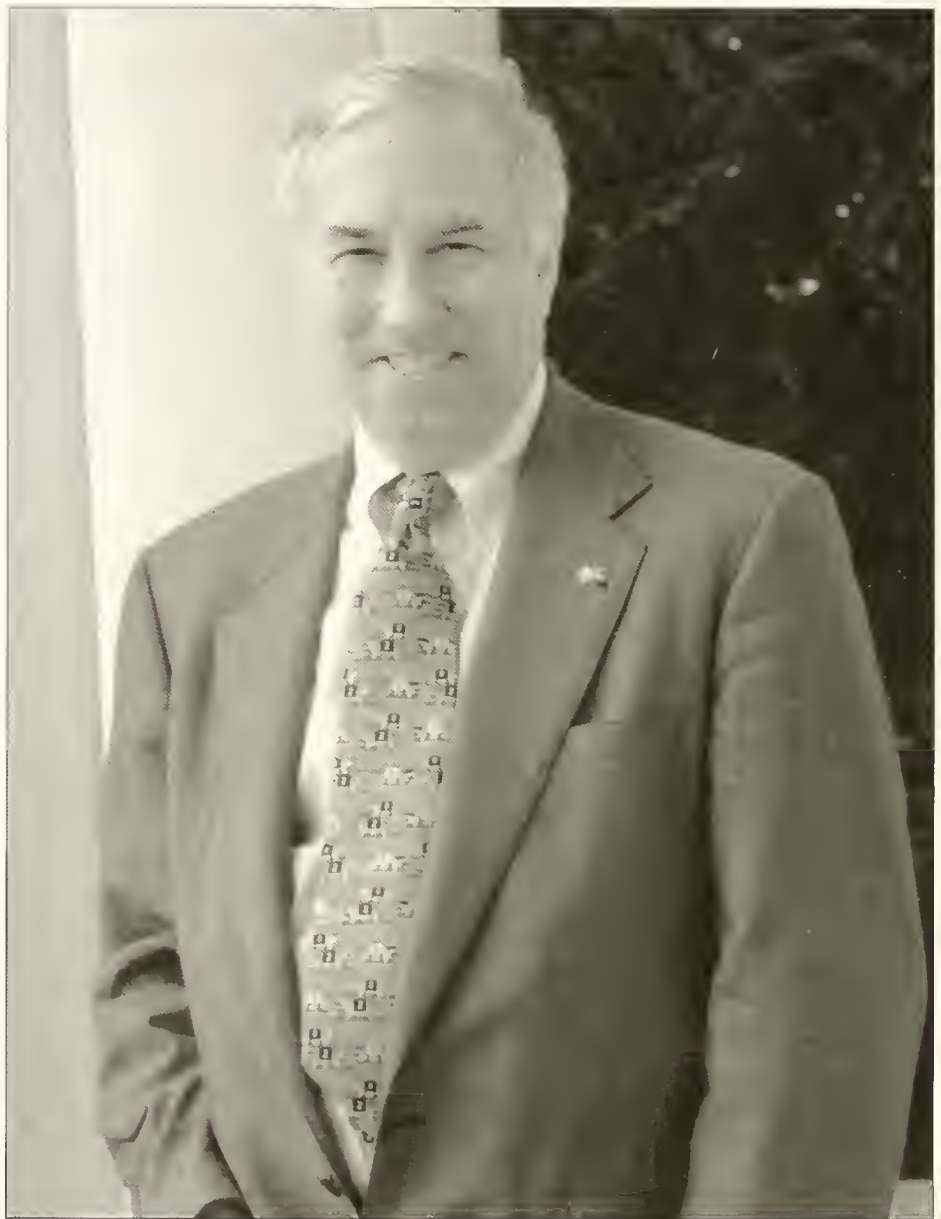

"The Regents could not be more pleased with this appointment," said Lance Billingsley, chairman of the University System of Maryland Board of Regents. "Dr. Mote brings to the University of Maryland the national stature, record of accomplishment, and leadership abilities to build on [former university president] Brit Kirwan's legacy and to propel this institution into the top tier of American research universities. A man of impeccable credentials, he is widely recognized for his ability to form strategic alliances between the academy and the community. I can think of no one better to take over the helm of our flagship university."

Mote, 61, was named to the vice chancellor's position and foundation presidency at UC Berkeley in 1991. In those capacities, he has been responsible for working with the university's external constituencies through a variety of programs, including fund raising, government relations, publications and public information. In 1992 he launched a comprehensive, campus-wide campaign to raise $1.1 billion in private support by the year 2000.

From 1987 to 1991, Mote served as chair of Berkeley's Department of Mechanical Engineering, leading the department to its No. 1 ranking in the National Research Council review of graduate program effectiveness. He came to Berkeley in 1967 after three years on the faculty of Carnegie Institute of Technology. He has held research positions at the University of Birmingham (England), the Norwegian Institute for Wood Science and Technology, the Technical University of Darmstadt, and the Tokyo Institute of Technology.

His technical expertise is in the areas of dynamic systems, instrumentation, vibration, and biomechanics. He is internationally recognized for his research on gyroscopic systems and also the biomechanics of skiing injury. His research work has yielded 300 publications as well as patents in the U.S., Norway, Finland and Sweden.

He is a registered professional engineer in California and has served professional societies in a number of capacities. He was Vice

C.D. Mote, Jr.

President of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers (Environment and Transportation Group) from 1986-90 and Vice Chairman of the ASME Council on Engineering in 1989-90. He was the founding chair of the ASME Noise Control and Acoustics Division and served from its inception in 1979 until 1983.

Athletic Administration

Deborah A. Yow, Director of Athletics

The University of Maryland athletic department has made remarkable progress under the leadership of Deborah A. Yow over the past four years. Budgets are now balanced and the inherited operating debt of almost $7 million has been paid in full. There is a spirit of excitement and pride at Maryland and the department has a clear vision for its future.

In her inspiring first meeting with the staff, shortly after she was named A.D. in the summer of 1994, she challenged the Terrapin athletic department to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools...to work hard and work smart...to recognize that our only limitations are those which we place upon ourselves."

Deborah Yow has rallied the department toward the achievement of five strategic goals:

- 1) Generate significantly higher revenues through increased corporate sponsorships, aggressive marketing and more effective fund-raising;
- 2) Boost the graduation rate of Terrapin athletes to a level equal to the general student body;
- 3) Raise the level of competitive achievement nationally and in the Atlantic Coast Conference, while carefully complying with ACC and NCAA rules;
- 4) Develop a streamlined, highly efficient athletics organization;
- 5) Provide outstanding customer service.

In achieving most of these goals over her first four years as athletic director, Yow and her dedicated coaches, administrators and staff have re-engineered the department from a debt-ridden, under-achieving organization to a responsive and financially sound model — with a clear vision and a determined drive toward national prominence. Maryland now ranks in the top 10 percent of all NCAA Division I programs competitively across all sports, is competing effectively in the ACC, and set an enviable record of 154 All-ACC academic honor roll student-athletes. Corporate sponsorship revenues are up 265 percent and annual fund-raising for scholarships has increased 60 percent. Maryland is a remarkably improved athletic program.

In 1997, Debbie Yow formed the employee "Committee on Quality in the Workplace" to recommend initiatives to improve working conditions and to design programs to recognize the value of athletic department employees. This has proved to be a wonderful tool in recognizing the worth of our outstanding employees across the department. There is a compelling sense that the Terrapin athletic department is a family, with a common goal and a shared purpose.

YOW ELECTED 2ND V-P OF NACDA

Deborah A. Yow was elected second vice-president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics this past June and is scheduled to assume the organization's presidency in July 2000. Her term as second vice-president began July 1. Now in its 33rd year, NACDA serves as the professional and educational association for more than 5,100 college athletic directors, associates, assistants and conference commissioners at more than 1,600 institutions throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico. Yow is the second woman to serve as an officer of NACDA (Barbara Hedges, athletic director at the University of Washington, held office from 1994-97).

Maryland's athletic director recently observed, "We have the finest coaches, support staff, and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work, and cooperation that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets and our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the Maryland Educational Foundation and M Club members who serve and give liberally. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all our successes...and the basis for our bright future."

Regarding the many achievements of the Terrapin athletic program, Debbie Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied...our vision is to be one of the top 10 programs in the nation consistently...we see no reason to settle for less." Yow, who is a member of the NCAA Management Council and other prestigious national groups, is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and expects maximum effort from herself and those around her. Her words set the tone for everyone in athletics: "Winning isn't everything, but the will to win is." She points out that this applies in the classroom, on the field of competition, and in life.

Reflecting on the status of the Terrapin football program, Maryland's A.D. realistically points out, "The new coaching staff inherited a team which had to play an unprecedented 13 freshmen in 1997, with more than 50 percent of our points scored in the 1997 season coming from these young freshmen. We have launched a determined rebuilding program, with this year's team also starting many young players new to the lineup. We will continue our steady and determined progress over the coming three years, as we become more competitive in the Atlantic Coast Conference. The football staff has a very big job ahead of it, but they are up to the task of rebuilding this program. It is now

"We have launched a determined rebuilding program, with this year's team also starting many young players new to the lineup ... the football staff has a very big job ahead of it, but they are up to the task of rebuilding this program. It is now more than ever that they need all our strong support."

— Deborah A. Yow

Maryland's athletic program has made remarkable progress under her leadership, but Deborah A. Yow continues to raise the bar, saying, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied...our vision is to be one of the top 10 programs in the nation consistently...we see no reason to settle for less."

more than ever that they need all our strong support, while they are rebuilding."

A former basketball coach, Yow was the first male or female at the Division I level to lead three schools (Kentucky, Oral Roberts, Florida) to their first-ever appearances in the national Top 25. Her previous significant administrative experience came at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina-Greensboro and as a pioneer female athletic director at Saint Louis University (1990-94).

The Maryland athletic department staff is working as a focused, talented and determined team under the dynamic leadership of Dr. Deborah A. Yow and is realizing steady and remarkable progress across all areas, with the best yet to come.

With a clear vision and with high aspirations for Maryland athletics, the Terps prepare to enter the new century on a dramatic upward thrust. The athletics staff embraces this prospect, with gratitude for its successes and with renewed determination to further enhance the program's national stature. It has the skill and determined leadership to reach its lofty goals, as a part of this great university. And it will.

Terrapins No. 19 in Athletic Excellence

University of Maryland this past June achieved one of the major department goals of the Deborah A. Yow era by earning inclusion in the top 20 of the Sears Directors' Cup, the national all-sports ranking measuring overall athletic competitiveness.

In final standings released by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics, the Terrapins' athletic program was ranked tied for 19th out of 306 Division I schools. It is the highest finish for the Terps since the rankings began, and Maryland's 38-

Medical Staff

The University of Maryland Department of Intercollegiate Athletics and the University of Maryland Medical Center's sports medicine program have joined forces to provide the best possible medical attention and care to all Terrapin student-athletes.

Orthopedic surgeon Leigh Ann Curl, M.D., serves as the head team physician and Tom Terrell, M.D., provides primary care services. Both Drs. Curl and Terrell are part of the growing University Sports Medicine program of the University of Maryland Medical Center, which also provides medical care for the Baltimore Ravens of the NFL, UMBC, Coppin State University and 14 high schools.

Says Deborah A. Yow, Maryland's director of athletics: "When we recruit student-athletes to play for Maryland, we owe them the best education, the best coaching and the best comprehensive health care. Drs. Curl and Terrell are excellent physicians who understand college athletics. It is especially gratifying for us to partner with our medical center in the same fashion as other ACC institutions do with their medical schools, like North Carolina, Virginia, Duke and Wake Forest."

LEIGH ANN CURL, M.D. HEAD TEAM PHYSICIAN

Leigh Ann Curl, a former All-American basketball player at the University of Connecticut and a 1998 inductee into the GTE Academic All-America Hall of Fame, is beginning her second year as Maryland's head team physician.

Dr. Curl, who is a member of the University of Maryland School of Medicine faculty as an assistant professor of orthopedic surgery, has performed volunteer work as team physician for USA Basketball, USA Rugby, Johns Hopkins University, St. John's University, the New York Mets and the New York City public schools recreation program.

She received her medical degree in 1989 from Johns Hopkins, where she served her internship and residency. She was a fellow in sports medicine and shoulder surgery at The Hospital for Special Surgery at Cornell University Medical Center in New York City.

Dr. Curl graduated summa cum laude from the University of Connecticut in 1985 and was her class valedictorian. She was a four-year starter on the women's basketball team, serving two years as team captain, and became the third women's basketball player in school history to score 1,000 points. She currently ranks 10th in career points and fifth in rebounds at UConn. A two-time GTE Academic All-America, Curl also was a two-time Big East Conference Scholar-Athlete of the Year.

TOM TERRELL, M.D. PRIMARY CARE DOCTOR

Training Staff

SANDY WORTH HEAD TRAINER

Sandy Worth, who has been affiliated with Maryland's athletic program since 1973, coordinates and directs the medical care for the Terps' football program in addition to her responsibilities as the university's head athletic trainer.

A native of Timonium, Md., Worth supervises and schedules a professional staff of five full-time assistants and approximately 25 student trainers who combine to provide medical assistance to the university's more than 600 student-athletes. Worth, a 1973 graduate of Maryland, joined the Terps' staff that same year as an associate trainer. She was promoted to head trainer in 1992.

During her career at Maryland, Worth has worked directly with five teams that have captured national championships — four in women's lacrosse and one in field hockey. In addition, she was the trainer for the women's basketball program when it won eight ACC titles and advanced to three NCAA Final Fours.

A member of the National Athletic Trainers Association, Worth was the head trainer for the 1989 and '93 U.S. women's lacrosse teams which won World Cup championships.

MICHAEL MEYERS ASST. TRAINER

Michael Meyers is in his second year on the athletic training staff at the University of Maryland. He works directly with the football and women's basketball programs.

Meyers came to College Park from Morgan State University, where he was a member of the training staff for two years. A native of Woodbridge, Va., Meyers began his career in athletic training at Norfolk State University. He earned his bachelor's degree in physical education from Old Dominion and his master's degree in health care administration from the University of Maryland, University College.

BRANT BERKSTRESSER ASST. TRAINER

Brant Berkstresser was named an assistant athletic trainer for football at the University of Maryland in October of 1997. Prior to his arrival in College Park, Berkstresser spent four years as an assistant trainer at Kansas State where he was the head trainer for men's basketball and an assistant trainer in football. He was a graduate assistant at Kansas State from 1991-93. In the summer of 1990, he interned with the New York Jets.

He earned a bachelor's of science degree in education with an emphasis in athletic training from West Virginia in 1991 and a master's in kinesiology from Kansas State in 1993. His wife's name is Gretchen.

STUDENT HEALTH CENTER

Dr. Sacred Bodison and Dr. Stephen Fahey are the two full-time campus health center physicians who specialize in sports medicine. Dr. Bodison is the assistant director of medical services at the health center and has been involved with the care of student-athletes since 1982. Dr. Fahey is an emergency physician who is in his ninth year working with the Terrapins. Dr. Bodison and Dr. Fahey are available to treat student-athletes daily on an as-needed basis in the health center. In addition, Dr. Margaret Bridwell serves as director of the Student Health Center and is a member of the University of Maryland Athletic Council.

Terrapin Club

Providing Scholarships for Today's Student-Athletes

What is the Terrapin Club?

As the scholarship fund-raising arm of the athletic department, the Terrapin Club is composed of approximately 4,500 members who contribute money annually to help pay the scholarship costs of our student-athletes. For many student-athletes, scholarships are the only means available to continue their education; for others, scholarships provide the opportunity to compete at the highest level of athletic competition in America's premier conference, the Atlantic Coast Conference.

With nearly 600 student-athletes, 400 of whom benefit from scholarship support, the scholarship bill for the coming year is approximately $4.5 million. For the fiscal year that ended June 30, 1998, the Terrapin Club contributed approximately $2.8 million toward scholarships.

table contribution for income tax purposes, according to Internal Revenue Service code, Section 170(m).

How is My Seat Location Determined?

Ticket assignments for football and basketball and all special events (the ACC Tournament, bowl games, etc.) are based on a point system designed to reward loyalty and total dollar contributions. Terpoints also are awarded for consecutive years of participation and referrals of new members.

Still Have Questions?

Call the Terrapin Club at (301) 314-7020 or (800) 653-7667.

How Much Should I Contribute?

As a Terrapin Club member, you can contribute the minimum of $125 or any higher amount. Your benefits of membership, however, do vary depending on your level and amount of contribution. The Terrapin Club is composed of seven levels of membership, ranging from the Top Terp level, where members contribute at least $10,000 per year, to the Silver level, where members contribute $125 per year.

What Benefits Do I Receive for Being a Member?

Members of the Terrapin Club directly assist the university in providing athletic scholarships. In addition, benefits of membership include priority seating for football and basketball, preferred parking, a monthly newsletter, and invitations to receptions and Terrapin Club events. Furthermore, you must be a member of the Terrapin Club to purchase men's basketball season tickets.

What Methods of Contributing are Available?

Direct gifts are the most common way of contributing. They are made in the form of cash, stock, checks or credit card (Visa or Mastercard). As a donor, you have the option of contributing once annually or periodically throughout the year. Also, you can now make your contribution via electronic bankdraft, where your account will be debited a set amount on the 10th of each month.

The University of Maryland Foundation (the depository for scholarship money) qualifies for most charitable matching gift programs. Please contact your employer to see if you are eligible for a matching gift program.

Is My Donation Tax Deductible?

Since your gift to the Terrapin Club provides you the right to purchase preferred seating for football and/or basketball, 80 percent of the total amount of your gift is tax deductible as a chari-

Maryland Educational Foundation

'Endowments for the Future'

The primary mission of the Maryland Educational Foundation (MEF) is to provide scholarship endowment funds in support of the University of Maryland athletic department's annual athletic scholarship expenses. By supporting talented, deserving student-athletes, you are ensuring that our legacy of excellence will continue and grow.

For more than 50 years, the MEF has provided financial support for Maryland athletics and is an important part of the department's gift-giving program. The vision of the MEF is to raise enough dollars through private gifts to build an endowment capable of funding each of the university's intercollegiate teams at the maximum number of scholarships allowed by the NCAA.

What is an endowment? An endowment is a gift in which the principal is held in perpetuity, with only the income used (in part or whole) for scholarships. The MEF invites you to discuss gifts such as cash, securities, real estate, insurance, personal property, life income, gifts of pooled income funds, charitable remainder trusts, charitable gift annuities, wills and bequests. An endowment gift is truly a dynamic investment in the future of Maryland athletics. Contact Greg Manning, executive director of the MEF, at (301) 314-7020 if you would like more information.

Major Gifts

'Building on a Winning Tradition'

The continued excellence of the University of Maryland athletics program will be greatly enhanced by the support it receives through private gifts beyond the annual Terrapin Club contributions. Cash gifts for the improvement of capital projects truly distinguishes any great institution's athletic program, thus guaranteeing a future as rich as its past. A gift of cash is the most critical type of donation to the Major Gifts Development Unit. Our goal this year is to raise $1.5 million in cash to enhance our facilities. Quality athletic facilities attract top-notch student-athletes to our university, and they attract alumni and friends back to campus to enjoy Maryland Terrapins intercollegiate athletic competition.

The primary focus of the Major Gifts program is to refurbish existing facilities and build new ones. We currently have several excellent naming opportunities available. If you have an interest in a naming opportunity, or in making a major gift in support of Maryland athletics, please call Greg Manning, Cheryl Harrison or Andrew Plenn at (301) 314-7020. They will be delighted to show you how both the donor and Terrapin athletics can benefit from a major gift to the University of Maryland.

THE M CLUB — 'ATHLETES HELPING ATHLETES'

The M Club was founded in 1923 by a group of former University of Maryland athletes led by Dr. H.C. "Curley" Byrd to encourage excellence in athletics. It is one of the oldest letterwinner clubs in the country, with a membership of more than 4,000 former Maryland varsity athletes.

The M Club goals are to help achieve the very best overall academic and athletic program for the 24 varsity teams; to aid the athletes in making positive contributions to the community; to obtain and maintain funds for awards and scholarships; and to cultivate social contact and good sportsmanship among the wearers of the "M."

Your membership participation, through the payment of annual dues, helps build the scholarship endowment fund, support student-athletes' awards and recognition efforts, and will enable you to receive the monthly athletic department publication (Terp Talk) for information about current teams and news about your former teammates.

In addition, you will receive information about and discounts for various M Club activities. Many benefits are intangible, though, including the satisfaction of having lettered at a great university and being a part of a unique and exclusive organization.

University of Maryland letterwinners interested in joining the M Club should call David Diehl at (301) 314-5372 or Dotti Warren at (301) 314-7020.

Academic Support

The University of Maryland considers intercollegiate athletics an integral part of the collegiate experience. Its existence provides an opportunity for students, faculty, alumni and students to share in the life of intercollegiate athletics.

The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to achieve the same standards of excellence in its athletics program as exist within the university's teaching, research and public service programs. The department embraces the concept that the student-athlete is first and foremost a student, possessing academic abilities, personal interests and ambitions comparable to those of the other members of the student body.

The mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit, headed by assistant athletic director Demetrius Marlowe, is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance the academic progress, facilitate the career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of every student-athlete.

The recently remodeled Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin Student-Athletes, named for long-time Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is housed in Cole Field House. It features a 24-station computer lab, study table room, tutorial room, and individual offices for five full-time counselors, an academic support coordinator, and two graduate assistants. In addition, an additional academic counselor and an auxiliary computer lab are housed in the Gossett Football Team House at Byrd Stadium.

Programs and services offered by the Academic Support and Career Development Unit include:

- Prospective student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- Academic planning
- Academic monitoring
- Academic record keeping
- Academic, personal, and career development enhancement programs
- Structured study table
- Tutorial support
- Computer skills development
- Peer mentor program
- Career development program

MAPS Directory

This directory, produced annually by the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics, is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin their professional careers. Distributed to more than 1,000 corporations and businesses around the region, prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with a photograph and resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements.

The University of Maryland athletic department embraces the concept that the student-athlete is first and foremost a student.

Terp Choices

Terp Choices is a program designed to guide student-athletes by orienting, supporting and increasing awareness of the relevant issues pertaining to student-athletes in today's world. The focus of the program is making personal choices and how they may affect an entire team, not just a single individual. Education and interactive workshops are presented to the athletic team and are led by student educators.

The Mentorship Program

The Terrapin Career Mentorship program involves an alumni-based group of individuals who are interested in working with graduating student-athletes. The mentors aid students through the process of making the transition from college to the work world. Attempts are made to match the individual student-athlete with a mentor from the same field of interest. Mentors are asked to assist the student-athlete in preparing the necessary tools to make him or her a more competitive job seeker.

Internship Program

The Internship Program is offered every spring to student-athletes who have earned 40 and 80 credits. The goal is to secure local summer internships for all interested student-athletes in an appropriate field of study.

The Partnership Program

The Terrapin Partnership Program is made up of a group of faculty and staff members at the University of Maryland who are interested in working with student-athletes who have just begun the process of earning a college degree. Volunteers are matched with freshmen or sophomore student-athletes so that they can develop a primary contact person with whom they can share their questions or concerns about campus life, home life, and academics.

Career Information Fairs

Career Awareness in Academic Support is expanding to include a variety of programs which will be offered for student-athletes throughout the semester. Career awareness will be an ongoing process and will include assistance with resume writing and interview skills. The end of the semester will bring a career awareness fair which will host a number of professionals with whom student-athletes can learn about career interests and planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen area of interest.

Team Maryland

Team Maryland is a class taught in conjunction with the campus' Center for Political Leadership in which student-athletes are exposed to leadership and public speaking skills and techniques. The program consists of a group of volunteer student-athletes who learn about the challenges for children in the community by speaking to different elementary schools about drug abuse and the importance of education.

In conjunction with the campus' Center for Political Leadership, participants are taught leadership skills and public speaking techniques to use in their school-based presentation. In addition to school visits, Team Maryland has hosted visits from local schools to our campus.

Terp Tutors

Teaching Excellence and Recognizing the Potential for Success targets local elementary and middle school students and helps those who may be struggling in the disciplines of reading and math. Student-athlete volunteers visit local schools and provide free tutoring services. The program is designed to reach out to the community and help young people improve their school skills, self-esteem and awareness of the world around them.

Support Staff

Heather Lowe

Working closely with members of the Maryland football team in their academic pursuits is Heather Lowe of the Academic Support and Career Development Office, headed by assistant athletic director Demetrius Marlowe. Lowe, an assistant director of academic support and career development, is in her fourth year at Maryland. She received a bachelor's degree from Syracuse in 1992 and a master's degree in college student personnel services from Louisville in 1994.

DID YOU KNOW?

- A total of 226 Terrapin student-athletes, comprising 51 percent of the student-athlete population at the University of Maryland, achieved Scholar-Athlete status in spring or fall, 1997. To qualify, student-athletes must have earned a 3.0 grade point average for one of the two semesters. Nearly 100 achieved a 3.0 or better for both semesters.
- In 1996-97, 143 Maryland student-athletes were named to the ACC Honor Roll for achieving a 3.0 GPA or better for the spring and fall semesters.
- Sixteen of Maryland's 24 varsity sports achieved team grade point averages of 2.5 or better during the fall 1997 semester.

Byrd Stadium

Home of the Terps

Byrd Stadium has been home to national championship football and men's and women's lacrosse teams, and to more than 50 ACC track and field champions. It hosted the Queen of England at a football game, and was the stage where the greatest high hurdler in history, Renaldo Nehemiah, performed his amazing feats. It also has been a regular site for the NCAA men's lacrosse Final Four, where several attendance records have been shattered.

Byrd Stadium — it's the first-class home of the Maryland Terrapins.

Situated at the foot of the campus' North Hill, the stadium is named for Dr. H.C. Byrd, a multi-sport athlete as an undergraduate who later became head football coach and eventually served as university president. His vision gave University of Maryland pre-eminence among Eastern campus sports facilities for decades and the impetus for the Terrapins to win more ACC championships than any league school.

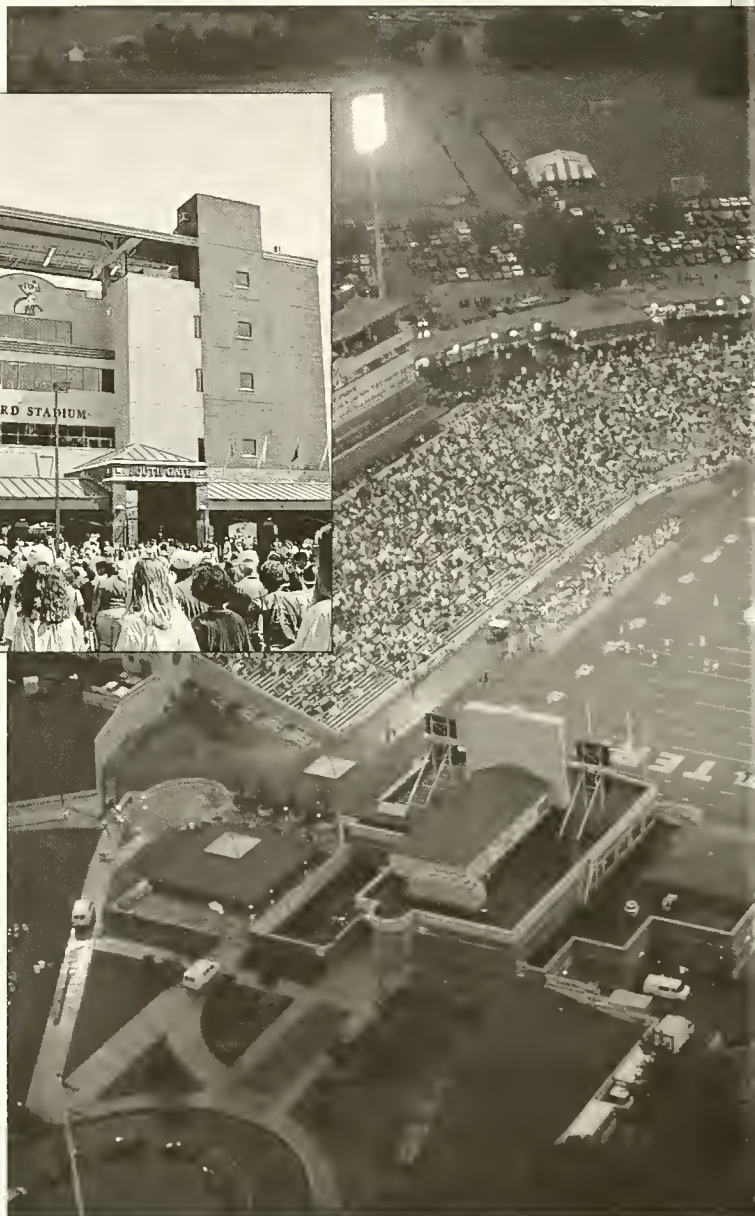

Since opening on Sept. 30, 1950, when Maryland defeated Navy 35-21 in the dedication game before a school-record crowd of 43,386 fans, Byrd has undergone a number of major facelifts, three of which occurred in the 1990s and have resulted in its present form. The first came shortly after the just beyond the east end zone. This $7 million building houses football coaching offices and meeting areas, academic computer lab, locker rooms, weight facility, and a medical support area. A bronze Terrapin sits in front of the team house, its installation coming in 1992 as part of the celebration of the 100th year of football at the university. Following the 1994 campaign, Byrd's seating capacity increased by more than 12,000 to its current level of 48,055 when a massive upper deck was added on the stadium's north side. The cost for the latest renovation exceeded $45 million.

The refurbishing of Byrd included new restrooms, bleachers and the stadium's first formal entranceway off of Field House Drive. The Gossett Football Team House, Tyser Tower, concession stands, rest rooms and stadium portals, designed by H.O.K. Architects of Kansas City, are enclosed in sand-molded brick that matches the Williamsburg-style brick used on most of Maryland's 335 buildings. The brick gives the contemporary architecture a timeless venter and unity with the university's traditional Georgian look.

Byrd Stadium Highlights

- 1950 Byrd Stadium is constructed at a cost of $1 million. The original capacity was 34,680, but could be boosted to more than 50,000 with temporary bleachers around the rim of the stadium.
- 1953 Byrd is home to the national champion Terrapin football team.
- 1955 In a game billed as the "Best of the East" vs. the "Best of the West," Maryland defeated No. 1-ranked UCLA 7-0. Historians called that game one of the greatest of the decade.
- 1957 Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Phillip visited while former Terp head coach Jim Tatum returned to the scene of his greatest coaching triumphs. The Terps went on to upset North Carolina in what then head coach Tommy Mont later called his finest moment as coach.
- 1974 The legendary Bear Bryant returned to College Park with his third-ranked Alabama Crimson Tide on Sept. 14. Temporary bleachers were installed for only the second time in stadium history to accommodate 54,412 fans, then the largest crowd ever at Byrd. Later in the season, on Oct. 11, the second-largest crowd (49,674) in Byrd history watched the 15th-ranked Terps defeat 17th-ranked NC State 20-10.
- 1975 The Byrd Stadium attendance record of 58,973 was set when 14th-ranked Maryland hosted ninth-ranked Penn State.
- 1983 Byrd Stadium played host to its second-largest crowd, 54,715, as the 17th-ranked Terps met West Virginia.
- 1985 The Terps, ranked No. 1 in the preseason by Sport magazine, set the all-time school home attendance record, averaging 51,546 for six home games.
- 1990 Construction began following the last home football game of the season on what was the first major athletic construction on campus in 35 years. The Byrd Stadium refurbishment was the first of its kind to be done without the supervision of Curley Byrd.
- 1994 Following the end of the football season, renovations continued with the addition of an upper deck.
- 1995 Seating capacity is 48,055 — an increase of 12,000 — following the completion of the upper deck on the stadium's north side. As needed, bleachers can increase the seating capacity to 62,000.

Gossett Football Team House

Whether they are taking advantage of the academic computer lab, spacious weight room, or state-of-the-art sports medicine area, football players at the University of Maryland are provided the finest in facilities at the Gossett Football Team House.

Located at the east end of Byrd Stadium, the 46,000-square foot building is an all-purpose complex that combines football function with imaginative design. Truly the "home" of the football Terps, the $7 million Gossett Football Team House features a first-class locker room, coaching offices, multiple meeting rooms, a strength and conditioning center, computer lab, medical facilities, audio-visual center, and equipment areas.

It was designed by the same firm (H.O.K. of Kansas City) that has performed the architectural work on some of America's premier collegiate and professional sports facilities.

Upon entering the main doors, student-athletes and visitors alike are greeted by an impressive reception area highlighting some of the great players and great moments in Maryland's storied football history. Nearby are coaching offices that overlook Byrd Stadium through oversized windows, as well as multiple meeting areas and conference rooms. A Terrapin Terrace, which surrounds the second-floor offices, is available for outdoor functions.

On the lower level, student-athletes make their strength and conditioning home in the 7,000-square-foot strength center under skylights that reveal more than 12 tons of workout machinery. The spacious dressing area features a double locker and footlocker for every player. The layout of the ground floor allows easy access to the many amenities the building has to offer. The locker rooms, which house a sauna and shower facilities, are less than 100 feet away from the second-floor conference areas. The nine conference areas are interconnecting and feature the latest in audio-visual equipment, some of which is available in only a handful of NCAA football programs.

Gossett Football Team House

As an integral part of the Byrd Stadium complex, the Gossett Football Team House is situated in the middle of campus and is within walking distance of dorms and dining areas. Both the practice fields and Byrd Stadium field are immediately outside the locker room door, or nearby. The steps leading down to the complex's front door face Cole Field House and the home of Maryland's outstanding academic support unit.

Each phase of the building—from the 3,500 square foot medical and hydrotherapy rooms, to strength center, to office suites—was designed to teach and support football excellence.

The building is named for Barry and Mary Gossett, long-time Terrapin supporters who have given generously to the athletic and academic programs at the University of Maryland.

Strength and Conditioning

In the highly competitive collegiate football world of the '90s, the off-field preparation of the student-athlete is a critical component to the on-field success of any Division I program. Dwight Galt, Maryland's director of strength and conditioning, believes strongly that a solid off-field training program can dramatically improve levels of performance, as well as significantly reduce the chance of injury. The benefit of performing structured strength and power training throughout the entire year has allowed the Terps to reach new levels in physical development.

At the University of Maryland, the maximal development of athleticism is the primary goal of the strength and conditioning program. To accomplish this requires more than just strength and power training in the weight room. Speed improvement, agility, flexibility, conditioning, plyometrics, and nutrition also play critical roles. The Terps' strength staff places substantial emphasis on all these areas, with special attention on the improvement of speed potential. Galt and his staff employ a wide range of state-of-the-art training methods to assist in enhancing all aspects of speed development.

Members of the Maryland football program follow a structured year-round weight training program.

The weight training facility in the Gossett Football Team House is more than 7,000 square feet in size.

Maryland's strength and conditioning staff makes every effort to accommodate the individual training needs of each member of the Terps' football team.

The Terrapins are fortunate to train in one of the premier weight training facilities in the United States. Conveniently located in the Gossett Football Team House, this facility has excellent aesthetic appeal, with two magnificent skylights and large windows overlooking the playing field at Byrd Stadium. The Terps' spacious weight room includes 7,200 square feet of functional floor space, with two elevated offices that are easily accessible to the training floor.

Maryland football players train with some of the best equipment available, including 20,000 pounds of customized York free weights, seven pieces of Keiser progressive air resistance machines, and a full line of Hammer strength equipment. The weight complex also features immense, self-contained power rack stations, Olympic lifting platforms with Fleiko bumper plates, and 10 upper body pressing stations.

A meaningful goal of every Terrapin football player is achievement of the prestigious "Iron Terp" award, which is recognized twice year to those team members who achieve extremely challenging strength goals, based on body weight. It is a great honor and matter of pride to earn an "Iron Terp" award, and the Terps must "train to win" to accomplish this!

Atlantic Coast Conference

Consistency. It's the mark of true excellence in any endeavor.

However, in today's intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Now in its 46th year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not mere conjecture, the numbers support it.

Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC schools have captured 62 NCAA and AIAW championships, including 27 in men's competition and 35 in women's. In addition, 100 men and 24 women have earned the coveted title of NCAA champion.

The University of Maryland and the ACC had an immediate impact on the national college football scene in the fall of 1953 when the Terps captured the first of what would eventually be four national football titles for the conference.

The ACC is one of only two conferences to capture three or more national football titles since 1980. Clemson laid claim to the league's second national title in 1981, Georgia Tech followed suit in 1990, while Florida State pocketed national title No. 4 in 1994.

The nine schools that take to the field this fall under the ACC banner have produced 334 first or second team gridiron All-Americans and 50 first team Academic All-Americans. ACC teams have had 1,387 players selected in the annual professional football draft, including 97 first round selections. A year ago, 154 players from the nine current ACC schools played in the NFL during the regular season or playoffs.

If success is best measured in terms of wins and losses, then the ACC over the years has proved itself to be among the elite in Division I-A football. The ACC is the nation's second winningest bowl conference as the nine current league teams are a combined 79-67-5 (.540) in postseason play, including a 22-16-1 mark since 1987. Over the past eight years, the ACC is the only conference in the country to have each of its schools play in a bowl game.

Georgia Tech and Florida State rank among the nation's winningest bowl teams. Among teams with 20 or more bowl appearances, the Yellow Jackets are No. 1 with a 18-8 (.692) postseason record while the Seminoles are third at 16-8-2 (.654).

In the decade of the 1990s, ACC teams have posted the nation's second best non-conference record. Including both postseason and regular season games, the ACC is 176-92-4 (.654) vs. non-league foes since 1990.

Over the past two years, the ACC has had more first round picks (15) in the annual NFL draft than any other conference. The SEC is second to the ACC with 14 first round picks, followed by the Big 12 (8) and the Big East (7).

In 1997, the ACC had 16 players earn first, second or third team All America honors. The league tied with the Big 12 for the most consensus All Americans with six each. Over the past two years, the ACC has produced 10 consensus All Americans from four different schools.

1997-98 IN REVIEW

The 1997-98 academic year concluded with the league pocketing three more national team titles and six individual NCAA crowns. In all, the ACC has won 29 national team titles the last seven years.

The ACC's 1997-98 national champions were Maryland in women's lacrosse and North Carolina in women's soccer and field hockey. In addition, the ACC had two other teams participate in national title games — Florida State in football and Maryland in men's lacrosse. Overall, ACC teams posted a 77-58 (.570) mark in NCAA Tournament play.

The ACC placed at least one team in the top 10 nationally in 19 of the 24 sports sponsored by the league. Other records of note during the 1997-98 season include 85 teams competing at NCAA Championships, four bowl teams and 19 top 10 showings.

Eight ACC teams, in six different sports, representing five of the nine member institutions, earned a No. 1 ranking during the course of the past academic year.

The ACC Academic Honor Roll record was broken for the 11th straight year in 1996-97 as 1,410 student-athletes were recognized for their work in the classroom.

THE CHAMPIONSHIPS

The conference conducted championship competition in 24 sports during the 1997-98 academic year — 12 for men and 12 for women.

The 12 sports for men include football, cross country, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, wrestling, baseball, tennis, golf and lacrosse. Women's sports were initiated in 1977. Conference championships for women are currently conducted in cross country, volleyball, field hockey, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, tennis, golf, lacrosse and softball.

A HISTORY

The Atlantic Coast Conference was founded on May 8, 1953 at the Sedgefield Inn near Greensboro, N.C., with seven charter members — Maryland, Clemson, Duke, North Carolina, North Carolina State, South Carolina and Wake Forest — drawing up the conference bylaws.

The withdrawal of seven schools from the Southern Conference came early on the morning of May 8, 1953, during the Southern Conference's annual spring meeting. On June 14, 1953, the seven members met in Raleigh, N.C., where a set of bylaws was adopted and the name became officially the Atlantic Coast Conference.

On Dec. 4, 1953, conference officials again met at Sedgefield and officially admitted the University of Virginia. The first, and only, withdrawal of a school from the ACC came on June 30, 1971 when the University of South Carolina tendered its resignation.

The conference operated with seven members until April 3, 1978, when Georgia Tech was admitted. The Atlanta school withdrew from the Southeastern Conference in January of 1964.

The ACC expanded to nine members on July 1, 1991, with the addition of Florida State.

Bowl Championship Series

Starting with the 1999 college football bowl season, the Bowl Championship Series (BCS) will determine the national championship.

The BCS will consist of the Rose Bowl, Sugar Bowl, Orange Bowl, and the Fiesta Bowl. The conferences with automatic berths include the Atlantic Coast, Big East, Big Ten, Big 12, Pac-10 and Southeastern.

The Bowl Championship Series differs from the original Bowl Alliance in that, for the first time, it will guarantee a matchup between college football's top two teams in a true national championship game.

Any Division I-A independent team or champion of the Western Athletic Conference or Conference USA which is ranked sixth or higher in the BCS standings will also be eligible for the Bowl Championship Series.

Otherwise, any Division I-A team can qualify for the BCS if they meet one of the following requirements:

- Has won at least eight college football games during the most recently concluded regular season excluding victories in exempted games.
- Is ranked among the top 12 teams in the BCS final regular season standings.
- Is ranked in the final BCS regular season standings no lower than the lowest ranked team selected by a bowl from the conference champions.

During the 1999 bowl season, the Fiesta Bowl will host the national championship contest. The game will be played on Jan. 4 at 8 p.m. ET in Tempe, Ariz. The Fiesta Bowl shall select the top two teams ranked in the BCS final regular season standings.

The BCS will also mark the return of regional consideration regarding team selection. Specifically, as a member of the BCS, the Rose Bowl will host the Big Ten and Pac-10 champions in those years in which either the Rose Bowl does not have the national championship game or the Big Ten and Pac-10 champion is not ranked No. 1 or No. 2. Other "regional consideration" tie-ins include the SEC champion in the Sugar Bowl, the ACC or Big East champion in the Orange Bowl, and the Big 12 champion in the Fiesta Bowl.

Other BCS bowl games during the 1999 bowl season include the Orange Bowl on Jan. 2 at 8 p.m. ET, the Sugar Bowl on Jan. 1 at 8:30 p.m. ET and the Rose Bowl on Jan. 1 at 5 p.m. ET.

ABC-TV has the broadcast rights to each of the four bowl games during the four-year contract.

In addition to the University of Maryland, Learfield Sports holds the radio broadcast rights to University of Missouri, University of Iowa, University of Alabama, Michigan State University, Indiana University, Purdue University, University of Wisconsin, University of Arizona, University of Oklahoma and Oklahoma State University.

JOHNNY HOLLIDAY

Play-by-Play

Johnny Holliday, now in his 20th year as "Voice of the Terps," is considered one of the finest play-by-play announcers in the country. In addition to calling the action for the Maryland football and basketball teams, Holliday also hosts the Ron Vanderlinden and Gary Williams television shows. As the Terps' director of broadcasting, he also handles a myriad of speaking duties within the athletic department, ranging from banquets to alumni functions to golf outings.

His long list of credits includes ABC's coverage of the 1996 Summer Olympics and the Winter and Summer Olympics in 1984, 1988 and 1994. In addition, he has covered championship boxing, the Masters, the USFL Game of the Week, and the Liberty and Aloha bowls.

Holliday's announcing career allows him to lay claim as Washington's most versatile broadcaster, and among the best nationally. Whether it be in radio, where he was named America's No. 1 disk jockey during his rock 'n roll deejay days, to his public address duties with the Cleveland Browns, Oakland Raiders, and Golden State Warriors, to his work in Washington television for the Senators and Bullets, Holliday makes a complicated business look easy.

He brings that ease to the Maryland coach's television shows on Home Team Sports, the region's premier sports channel. He also has been the host of Redskin general manager Charley Casserly's show and ACC Sports Sunday. He also does special events for IITS that include baseball, tennis, basketball and track and field. He is among the pioneer broadcasters for the sport of women's basketball, earning a Distinguished Service Award from ACC women's basketball officials for his work on that league's women's basketball telecasts the past seven years.

A native of Miami, Fla., Holliday began his broadcasting career in Perry, Ga., and through the years has worked in four of the nation's prime radio markets: Cleveland, New York, San Francisco and Washington. At one time, he was recognized as America's No. 1 disc jockey. He is a member of the Rock 'N Roll Hall of Fame.

In addition to his broadcasting accomplishments, he also has been extremely successful raising money for charity. Washingtonian magazine honored him as a Washingtonian of the Year for his many civic activities. His basketball and softball teams, the Radio Wonders, have raised more than $1 million for charity. He is involved in Special Olympics, Catholic Charities, Operation Smile, and the Boy Scouts of America. He has served as television host for the Easter Seals, Muscular Dystrophy, March of Dimes and Leukemia telethons.

This past spring he was honored by the Greater Washington, D.C. Chapter of Operation Smile with its 1998 Smile Award for his outstanding service to the community. In 1995, he was the recipient of the University of Maryland "M Club" Distinguished Citizen Award. He is an honorary member of the university's chapter of Omicron Delta Kappa.

Holliday and his wife, Mary Claire, are the proud parents of three daughters: Kellie, a physician who resides in Bel Air, Md., with her husband Steve, who also is a physician; Tracie, a neo-natal nurse at Shady Grove Hospital who resides in Potomac, Md., with her husband Chris, an attorney; and Moira, who attends St. Joseph's University in Philadelphia.
